

RUTGERS UNIVERSITY LIBRARY

17 2 66

Presented by

CHARLES A. PHILHOWER
and

ALICE EDNA HAYNES PHILHOWER
Westfield, New Jersey

Digitized by the Internet Archive in 2010 with funding from Lyrasis Members and Sloan Foundation

A MANUAL
FOR THE
USE OF THE LODGES
UNDER THE JURISDICTION OF THE GRAND LODGE OF THE
MOST ANCIENT AND HONORABLE SOCIETY OF
FREE AND ACCEPTED MASONS
OF THE
STATE OF NEW JERSEY.

PREPARED BY THE COMMITTEE ON REVISION, AND PRESENTED TO THE GRAND LODGE, JANUARY 26TH, 1887.

NEW YORK :
ROBERT MACOY, 7 MURRAY STREET.
1887.

435
COPYRIGHT, 1887, BY
WILLIAM A. PEMBROOK.

Press of J. J. Little & Co.
Astor Place, New York.

680938

REPORT OF THE COMMITTEE ON REVISION.

At a meeting of the Grand Lodge held at Trenton in January last, your committee presented a revision of the Manual and Ceremonials, with their report, as follows: "In making selection of material, the committee have sought to give strength to their work by using only such Masonic writings as are undeniably of good repute; at the same time they have adhered quite closely to some forms which have been in use for a long time by the Craft in this jurisdiction, and which have become, by usage, very familiar to us as Masons." Their work was accepted by the Grand Lodge, after some modifications, and the committee was continued, with instructions to complete their work, cause it to be published, and distributed to the Lodges.

We present this volume as the result of our labors, and would report that the instructions of the Grand Lodge have been fully carried out by us.

Fraternally submitted:

WILLIAM A. PEMBROOK,	}	Committee.
JOSEPH W. MARTIN,
JAMES A. NORTON,
HEBER WELLS,
HENRY S. HAINES,
HAMILTON WALLIS,
CHARLES H. MANN,

CONTENTS.

	PAGE
REPORT OF THE COMMITTEE ON REVISION.....	3
OPENING THE LODGE	5
CLOSING THE LODGE.....	7
PRELIMINARIES TO THE ADMISSION OF CANDIDATES...	9
ENTERED APPRENTICE DEGREE	31
FELLOW CRAFT DEGREE	67
MASTER MASON DEGREE.....	101
PAST MASTER DEGREE.....	122
CEREMONY OF CONSTITUTION OF A LODGE.....	123
“ “ INSTALLATION OF THE OFFICERS OF A LODGE	134
“ “ LAYING THE FOUNDATION STONES OF PUBLIC STRUCTURES.....	155
“ “ DEDICATION OF MASONIC HALLS.....	163
“ “ INSTALLATION OF THE OFFICERS OF THE GRAND LODGE	173
“ FOR FUNERALS.....	189
“ “ “ (Short Form)	202
FORMS OF MASONIC DOCUMENTS	205
“ “ KEEPING THE MINUTES OF A LODGE.....	212
“ “ BY-LAWS OF A LODGE.....	213

MANUAL OF THE LODGE.

OPENING THE LODGE.

* * * * *

The following, or some other suitable

PRAYER.

Great Architect of the Universe! In thy name we have assembled, and in thy name we desire to proceed in all our doings. We beseech thee to bless us in all our undertakings, that we may know and serve thee aright, and that all our actions may tend to thy glory, and to our advancement in knowledge and virtue; and we pray thee, O Lord! to bless our present assembling, and to enlighten our minds, that we may walk in the light of thy countenance, and when the trials of our probationary state are over, be admitted into the temple not made with hands, eternal in the heavens. Amen.

Response—So mote it be.

NOTE—Wherever, throughout this Manual, parts are inclosed in brackets, [], they may be omitted at discretion.

Or this :

Vouchsafe thine aid and blessing, Almighty Father of the Universe, to us now in Lodge assembled. Enable us to perform every duty with fidelity, so that our labors may meet thy divine approbation; and to thy name be the glory forever. Amen.

Response—So mote it be.

Or this :

O Lord, our Heavenly Father, high and mighty Ruler of the Universe, who dost from thy throne behold all the dwellers upon earth, direct us, we beseech thee, in all our doings with thy most gracious favor, and further us with thy continual help, that, in all our works begun, continued and ended in thee, we may glorify thy holy name, and finally, by thy mercy, obtain everlasting life. We beseech thee to bless and prosper the works of our Fraternity throughout the world. Help us to serve thee aright; and may the whole world be filled with thy glory. Amen.

Response—So mote it be.

Here may follow an

ODE.

* * * * *

CLOSING THE LODGE.

* * * * *

PRAYER.

Almighty Father, Preserver and Benefactor, unto whom all hearts are open, all desires known, and from whom no secrets are hid, we heartily thank thee for the fraternal communion which we have this evening enjoyed. Pardon all that thy holy eye hath seen amiss in us. Bless our humble labors for the promotion of truth, love, unity, and peace. Smile upon our Institution, and make it an instrument of great good. Dismiss us with thy blessing. Go with us when we separate. Guide us evermore by thy good Providence; and finally reunite us at thy right hand, in that world of light, life and love, where thou dost forever reign. Amen.

Response—So mote it be.

Here may follow an

ODE.

* * * * *

CHARGE.

BRETHREN—We are now about to quit this sacred retreat of friendship and virtue, to mix again with the world. Amidst its concerns and employments, forget not the duties you have heard so frequently inculcated and so forcibly recommended in this Lodge. Be diligent, prudent, temperate, discreet. Remember that at this altar you have promised to befriend and relieve every brother who shall need your assistance. Remember that you have promised to remind an erring brother of his failings; to aid in his reformation; to vindicate his character when traduced; and to suggest in his behalf the most charitable judgment.

These generous principles should extend further. Every human being has a claim upon your kind offices. "Do good unto all men, especially unto them who are of the household of faith.

"Finally, brethren, farewell. Be perfect, be of good comfort, be of one mind, live in peace; and the God of love and peace shall be with you."

* * * * *

BENEDICTION.

May the blessing of heaven rest upon us and all regular Masons. May brotherly love prevail, and every moral and social virtue cement us. Amen.

Response—So mote it be.

PRELIMINARIES

TO THE ADMISSION OF CANDIDATES.

All applications for initiation must be made by petition in writing, giving name, residence, age, occupation, and references, in the following form:

To the Worshipful Master, Wardens and Brethren of ——— Lodge, No. —, of Free and Accepted Masons :

The undersigned, being a firm believer in the existence of a Supreme Being, respectfully represents, that, unbiased by friends and uninfluenced by mercenary motives, he freely and voluntarily offers himself a candidate for the mysteries of Freemasonry ; that he is prompted to solicit this privilege by a favorable opinion conceived of the Institution, a desire for knowledge, and a sincere wish to be serviceable to his fellow creatures ; and he promises, if found worthy, to conform to all the established usages, customs and regulations of the Fraternity. He further states that he ^{has not}_{or has} made application for the degrees of Freemasonry to any other Lodge.

His place of residence is ———, his age ———, his occupation ———.

Dated, ———, 18——.

Signed, ——— ———.

Recommended by ——— ———.

Avouched by ——— ———.

The brother proposing the candidate, and the brethren to whom the petitioner refers, must belong to the Lodge to which the petition is presented. The brethren above mentioned and the petitioner must sign their names to the petition.

After the petition has been presented to the Lodge it is referred to a committee to investigate the character and qualifications of the petitioner. Four weeks thereafter, unless a dispensation to shorten the time be obtained, he may be balloted for, and if elected, is required to make the following declarations in the presence of the Masters of Ceremonies, in a room adjacent to the Lodge :

1. "Do you seriously declare, upon your honor, that you have never been rejected by a Masonic Lodge ?

2. "Do you seriously declare, upon your honor, that, unbiased by friends, and uninfluenced by mercenary motives, you freely and voluntarily offer yourself a candidate for the mysteries of Freemasonry ?

3. "Do you seriously declare, upon your honor, that you are prompted to solicit the privileges of Freemasonry by a favorable opinion conceived of the Institution, a desire for knowledge, and a sincere wish to be serviceable to your fellow creatures ?

4. "Do you seriously declare, upon your honor, that you will conform to all the ancient established usages and customs of the Fraternity ?"

In case the candidate shall declare to the Masters of Ceremonies that he has previously been rejected, they shall, before proceeding further, make that fact known in open Lodge, and ascertain if the disability has been removed.

ENTERED APPRENTICE.

SECTION I.

Reception.

Presentation of Apron. Demand.

SECTION II.

SECTION II.

NE

SECTION III.

SECTION III.

SECTION III.

SECTION III.

SECTION III.

SECTION III.

SECTION III.

F

P

T

J

GUTTUR,

the Throat.

PECTUS,

the Breast.

MANUS,

the Hands.

PEDES,

the Feet.

ENTERED APPRENTICE DEGREE.

FIRST SECTION.

ADMISSION OF THE CANDIDATE.

PRAYER.

Vouchsafe thine aid, Almighty Father of the Universe, to this our present convention, and grant that this candidate for Masonry may dedicate and devote his life to thy service, and become a true and faithful brother among us. Endue him with a competency of thy divine wisdom, that by the influence of the pure principles of our Fraternity he may be better enabled to display the beauty of holiness, to the honor of thy sacred name. Amen.

Response—So mote it be.

The following passage of Scripture is to be rehearsed, or chanted, during this section of the ceremony :

“Behold, how good and how pleasant it is for brethren to dwell together in unity!”

“It is like the precious ointment upon the head, that ran down upon the beard, even Aaron’s beard, that went down to the skirts of his garments ;

“As the dew of Hermon, and as the dew that descended upon the mountains of Zion : for there the Lord commanded the blessing, even life for evermore.”—Psalm 133.

Freemasonry is a beautiful system of morality, veiled in allegory and illustrated by symbols. It was established by wise and virtuous men, with the praiseworthy design of recalling to our minds the most solemn truths in the midst of the most innocent social pleasures. Truth is its centre. It is founded on the purest principles of Morality, Brotherly Love and Charity. It possesses many and inestimable privileges, and to secure those privileges to worthy men, and worthy men only, voluntary pledges of fidelity are required.

* * * * *

“In the beginning God created the heaven and the earth. And the earth was without form and void ; and darkness was upon the face of the deep. And the Spirit of God moved upon the face of the waters. And God said, Let there be light : and there was light.”

* * * * *

* * * * *

THE APRON.

The Lambskin or white leathern apron is an emblem of innocence, and the badge of a Mason ; more ancient than the Golden Fleece, or Roman Eagle ; more honorable than the Star and Garter, or any other order that can be conferred upon you at this or at any future period, by king, prince, potentate, or any other person, except he be a Mason. It is hoped you will wear it with pleasure to yourself and with honor to the Fraternity.

* * * * *

THE WORKING TOOLS.

The working tools of an Entered Apprentice Mason are the Twenty-four inch Gauge and the Common Gavel.

The twenty-four inch gauge is an instrument used by operative masons to measure and lay out their work; but we, as Free and Accepted Masons, are taught to make use of it symbolically for the more noble and glorious purpose of dividing our time. Being divided into twenty-four equal parts, it is emblematical of the twenty-four hours of the day, which we are taught to divide into three equal parts, whereby are found eight hours for the service of God, and of a distressed worthy brother, eight for our usual vocations, and eight for refreshment and sleep.

The common gavel is an instrument used by operative masons to break off the corners of rough stones, the better to fit them for the builder's use ; but we, as Free and Accepted Masons, are taught by its symbolism to divest our hearts and consciences of all the vices and superfluities of life ; thereby fitting our minds as living stones for that spiritual building, "that house not made with hands, eternal in the heavens."

DEMAND.

* * * * *

The first section concludes with a beautiful and impressive illustration of Charity.

SECOND SECTION.

The second section makes us acquainted with the peculiar forms and ceremonies which are used at the initiation of candidates into Masonry, and convinces us of the propriety of our rites. It also demonstrates very clearly their excellence and utility.

* * * * *

* * * * *

THE BADGE OF A MASON.

The Lamb has, in all ages, been deemed an emblem of innocence. The lamb-skin is therefore a symbol of that purity of life and conduct which is essentially necessary to admission into the Celestial Lodge above, where the Supreme Architect of the Universe presides.

* * * * *

THIRD SECTION.

This section explains what constitutes and what authorizes a Masonic Lodge; where held, its form, support, covering, furniture, ornaments, lights and jewels, how situated, and to whom dedicated.

A Masonic Lodge consists of a sufficient number of Freemasons, assembled together in a proper place, having the Holy Bible, the Square and Compasses, and a Warrant issued by a Grand Lodge, by virtue of which they are empowered to meet, transact business, and do Masonic work.

WHERE LODGES ARE HELD.

Lodge meetings at the present day are usually held in upper chambers, for the security which such places afford. [It may be, however, that the custom had its origin in a practice observed by the ancient Jews, in building their temples, schools and synagogues on high hills, a practice which seems to have met the approbation of the Almighty, who said unto the prophet Ezekiel, “upon the top of the mountain, the whole limit thereof round about, shall be most holy.” Before the erection of temples, the celestial bodies were worshiped on hills, and the terrestrial ones in valleys.]

FORM AND DIMENSIONS OF THE LODGE.

Its form is * * * * Its dimensions from east to west and from north to south, embrace every nation and every clime. Its universal chain of friendship encircles every portion of the human family, and its influence beams wherever civilization extends.

THE SUPPORTS OF THE LODGE.

A Lodge has three symbolical supports, Wisdom, Strength and Beauty; because there should be wisdom to contrive, strength to support, and beauty to adorn all great and important undertakings. The universe is the temple of the Deity whom we serve, and Wisdom, Strength and Beauty are about his throne as pillars of his work ; for his wisdom is infinite, his strength is omnipotent, and his beauty shines forth through all his creation in symmetry and order.

THE COVERING OF THE LODGE.

Its covering is no less than the clouded canopy or star-decked heaven, which constantly reminds us of that Heaven which all good Masons hope at last to reach by means of that symbolical ladder the three principal rounds of which are denominated Faith, Hope and Charity. These admonish us to have faith in God, hope of immortality, and charity towards all mankind. The greatest of these is charity; for faith is lost in sight; hope ends in fruition; but charity extends beyond the grave, through the boundless realms of eternity.

THE FURNITURE OF THE LODGE.

The Furniture of a Lodge consists of the Holy Bible, the Square and Compasses, and a Warrant. The Bible is dedicated to the service of God, because it is the inestimable gift of God to man,

* * * * *; the Square to the Master, because it is the proper Masonic emblem of his office; and the Compasses to the Craft, because by due attention to their use, they are taught to circumscribe their desires, and keep their passions within due bounds.

THE ORNAMENTS OF THE LODGE.

The ornaments of a Lodge are the Mosaic Pavement, the Indented Tessel, and the Blazing Star. The Mosaic pavement is a representation of the ground floor of King Solomon's Temple; and the indented tessel, of that beautiful tessellated border which surrounded it.

The Mosaic pavement is emblematical of human life, checkered with good and evil ; and the beautiful border which surrounds it is emblematical of those manifold blessings and comforts which surround us, and which we owe to the bounty of Divine Providence, which is hieroglyphically represented by the blazing star in the centre.

THE LIGHTS OF THE LODGE.

A Lodge has three symbolic lights.

THE JEWELS OF THE LODGE.

A Lodge has six jewels ; three movable and three immovable. The immovable jewels are the Square, Level and Plumb.

They are called immovable jewels because they are always to be found in the East, West and South of the Lodge, being worn by the officers in those respective stations.

The Square teaches morality, the Level equality, and the Plumb rectitude of life and conduct.

The movable jewels are the Rough Ashlar, the Perfect Ashlar, and the Trestle-Board.

The rough ashlar is a stone as taken from the quarry, in its rude and natural state. The perfect ashlar is a stone made ready by the hands of the workmen, to be adjusted by the working tools of the fellow-craft. The trestle-board is for the master workman to draw his designs upon.

By the rough ashlar we are reminded of our rude and imperfect state by nature ; by the perfect ashlar, of that state of perfection at which we hope to arrive by a virtuous education, our own endeavors, and the blessing of God. As the operative workman erects his temporal building in accordance with designs laid down upon the trestle-board by the master workman, so should we, as Speculative Masons, endeavor to erect our spiritual building in accordance with the designs laid down by the Supreme Architect of the Universe in the great Book of Life, which is our spiritual, moral and Masonic trestle-board.

THE SITUATION OF THE LODGE.

The Lodge is situated due east and west, because King Solomon's temple was * *

DEDICATION OF THE LODGE.

Lodges in ancient times were dedicated to Solomon, King of Israel * * * but in modern times they are dedicated to St. John the Baptist and St.

John the Evangelist ; and there is represented in every Lodge a certain Point within a Circle, em-bordered by two perpendicular parallel lines representing those two saints ; and upon the circle rests the Holy Scriptures. The point within the circle represents an individual brother, and the circle is the boundary line beyond which he is never to suffer his passions to betray him. In going round this circle, he must necessarily touch these two lines, as well as the Holy Scriptures. While a Mason keeps himself circumscribed within these bounds it is impossible that he should materially err.

TENETS.

The principal tenets of Freemasonry are Brotherly Love, Relief, and Truth. The first renders us affectionate and kind, the second generous, and the third just.

BROTHERLY LOVE.

Brotherly love induces us to regard the whole human species—the high and the low, the rich and the poor—as one family ; who, having been created by one Almighty Parent, should aid, support, and protect each other. Masonry, therefore, unites men of every country, sect and opinion.

RELIEF.

To relieve the distressed is a duty incumbent upon all men, but particularly upon Masons, who are linked together by an indissoluble chain of sincere affection. To soothe the unhappy, to sympathize with them in their misfortunes, to compassionate their miseries, and to restore peace to their troubled minds, is the great aim we have in view.

TRUTH.

Truth is a divine attribute, and the foundation of every virtue. To be good and true is the first lesson we are taught in Masonry. On this theme we contemplate, and by its dictates endeavor to regulate our conduct. Hence, while influenced by this principle, hypocrisy and deceit are unknown among us; sincerity and plain dealing distinguish us; and the heart and tongue join in promoting each other's welfare, and rejoicing in each other's prosperity.

* * * * *

THE FOUR CARDINAL VIRTUES.

† † † †

FORTITUDE.

FORTITUDE is that noble attribute of the mind whereby we are enabled to undergo pain, peril, or danger, in the performance of duty. This virtue is equally removed from rashness and cowardice, and should be deeply impressed upon the mind of every Mason, as a safeguard or security against any attempt that may be made, by force or otherwise, to extort from him any of those valuable secrets with which he has been so solemnly intrusted, and which were emblematically represented upon his first admission into the Lodge.

* * * * *

PRUDENCE.

PRUDENCE teaches us to regulate our lives and actions according to the dictates of reason, and enables us to wisely judge and prudently determine on all things relative to our present, as well as to our future happiness. This virtue should be the peculiar characteristic of every Mason, not only for the government of his conduct while in the Lodge, but also when abroad in the world. It should be his constant care in all strange and mixed companies never to let fall the least sign, token, or word whereby the secrets of Masonry might be unlawfully obtained.

* * * * *

TEMPERANCE.

TEMPERANCE is that due restraint upon our affections and passions which renders the body tame and governable, and guards the mind against the allurements of vice. This virtue should be the constant practice of every Mason, as he is thereby taught to avoid excess and any licentious or vicious practice, the indulgence of which might lead him to disclose some of those valuable secrets which he has promised to conceal and never reveal, and consequently subject him to the contempt and detestation of all good Masons.

* * * * † † †

JUSTICE.

JUSTICE is that standard of right which enables us to render to every man his just due without distinction. This virtue is enjoined by both human and divine laws, and is the foundation and support of civil society. As justice characterizes the really good man, it should be the invariable practice of every Mason never to deviate from the minutest principles thereof.

* * * * † † † †

The illustration of these virtues is accompanied with some general observations peculiar to Masons. Due veneration is also paid to our ancient patrons.

* * * * *

OUR MOTHER EARTH.

Earth alone of all the elements has never proved unfriendly to man. Bodies of water deluge him with rain, oppress him with hail, and drown him with inundations. Air rushes in storms and whirls in tempests. Fire causes earthquakes and lights up the volcano, but earth, ever kind and indulgent, is subservient to his wishes. Though constantly taxed to furnish the luxuries and the necessities of life, it never refuses its accustomed yield, but spreads his path with flowers and his table with plenty, and returns with interest every good committed to its care; and when man is called upon to pass through the "valley of the shadow of death," it once more receives him and covers his remains within its bosom. This admonishes us that from earth we came, and to earth we must shortly return.

Or this :

Mother earth, which is constantly employed for man's habitation and use, the maintenance of his body, and its final resting place. This admonishes us that from earth we came, and to earth we must shortly return.

CHARGE AT INITIATION INTO THE ENTERED APPRENTICE DEGREE.

BROTHER—As you are now introduced into the first principles of Freemasonry, I congratulate you upon being accepted into this ancient and honorable Fraternity. Ancient in having subsisted from time immemorial, and honorable as tending so to render all men who will be conformable to its precepts. No institution was ever founded on a better principle, or raised on a more solid foundation ; nor were ever more excellent rules and useful maxims laid down than are inculcated in the several Masonic lectures. The greatest and best of men, in all ages, have been encouragers and promoters of the art, and have never deemed it derogatory to their dignity to level themselves with the Fraternity, extend its privileges, and patronize its assemblies. There are three great duties, which, as a Mason, you are charged to inculcate—to God, your neighbor, and yourself. To God, in never mentioning his name but with that reverential awe which is due from a creature to his Creator ; in imploring his aid in all your laudable undertakings, and in esteeming him as the chief good ; to your neighbor, in acting upon the square, and doing unto him as you wish he should do unto you ; and to yourself, in avoiding all irregularity and intemperance, which may impair your faculties, or debase the dignity of your profession. The performance of these duties will entitle you to public and private esteem.

In the State you are to be a quiet and peaceable citizen, true to your government and just to your country. You are not to countenance disloyalty or rebellion, but patiently submit to legal authority, and conform with cheerfulness to the government of the country in which you live. In your outward demeanor, be particularly careful to avoid censure or reproach.

Although your frequent appearance at our regular meetings is earnestly solicited, yet it is not meant that Masonry should interfere with your necessary vocations, for these are on no account to be neglected ; neither are you to suffer your zeal for the Institution to lead you into argument with those who, through ignorance, may ridicule it.

During your leisure hours, that you may improve in Masonic knowledge, you are to converse with well-informed brethren, who will be always as ready to give, as you will be to receive, instruction.

Finally, keep sacred and inviolate the mysteries of the Fraternity, as these are to distinguish you from the rest of the community, and mark your consequence among Masons. If, in the circle of your acquaintance, you find a person desirous of being initiated into Masonry, be particularly careful not to recommend him, unless you are convinced that he will conform to our rules ; that the honor, glory and reputation of the Institution may be firmly established, and the world at large convinced of its good effects.

RECEPTION ADDRESS.

My Brother—We now receive you into this great Brotherhood as an Entered Apprentice Mason, earnestly hoping that the faith in God which you have here professed may ever remain unfaltering and steadfast ; that the divine aid and blessing invoked for you upon your present undertaking may attend and direct all your actions through life, and enable you so to practise the precepts here enjoined, as to dignify your character as a man, and honor your profession as a Mason.

End of the Entered Apprentice Degree.

FELLOW CRAFT.

SECTION I.

* * * * *

* * * * *

* * * * *

SECTION II.

SECTION II.

SECTION II.

SECTION II.

FELLOW CRAFT DEGREE.

FIRST SECTION.

ADMISSION OF THE CANDIDATE.

* * * * *

The following passage of Scripture is to be rehearsed or chanted during this section of the ceremony :

“ Thus he showed me : and, behold, the LORD stood upon a wall made by a plumb-line, with a plumb-line in his hand. And the LORD said unto me, Amos, what seest thou ? and I said, A plumb-line. Then said the LORD, Behold, I will set a plumb-line in the midst of my people Israel : I will not again pass them by any more.”—Amos, vii. 7, 8.

* * * * *

The candidate for advancement here learns that the ceremonies through which he has passed are intended to impress upon his understanding the duties enjoined by a sound morality ; to prepare his mind for a wider and more extended range of thought, and to awaken the purer and nobler impulses of his heart. The Entered Apprentice degree is but the vestibule of our symbolic temple, and as the candidate now presses on and advances within its halls new pleasures will open to his view ; and if industry and zeal attend his labors, he may gather beneath the veil of our mysteries additional treasures of science and knowledge.

* * * * *

THE WORKING TOOLS.

The working tools of a Fellow Craft Mason are the Plumb, Square and Level.

The Plumb is an instrument used by operative masons to try perpendiculars, the Square, to square their work, and the Level, to prove horizontals ; but we, as Free and Accepted Masons, are taught to make use of them for more noble and glorious purposes. The plumb admonishes us to walk uprightly in our several stations before God and man ; the square teaches us to square our actions by the square of virtue, and the level reminds us that we are travelling upon the level of time to the “undiscovered country, from whose bourne no traveller returns.”

SECOND SECTION.

Masonry is understood under two denominations, Operative and Speculative.

OPERATIVE MASONRY.

Operative Masonry is the proper application of the useful rules of architecture, whence a structure will derive figure, strength and beauty, and whence will result a due proportion and a just correspondence in all its parts. It furnishes us with dwellings, and convenient shelters from the vicissitudes and inclemencies of seasons ; and while it displays the effects of human wisdom, as well in the choice, as in the arrangement of the materials of which an edifice is composed, it demonstrates that industry and a love of science are implanted in man, for the best, most salutary and beneficent purposes.

SPECULATIVE MASONRY.

By Speculative Masonry, we learn to subdue the passions, act upon the square, keep a tongue of good report, maintain secrecy, and practise charity. It is so far interwoven with religion, as to lay us under obligations to pay that homage to the Deity which at once constitutes our duty and our happiness. It leads the contemplative to view with reverence and admiration the glorious works of creation, and inspires him with the most exalted ideas of the perfection of his Divine Creator.

Our ancient brethren worked in Operative as well as in Speculative Masonry, and, according to tradition, wrought at the building of King Solomon's temple ; and, as God created the heavens and the earth in six days, and rested on the seventh, so they observed this as a day of rest from their labors, thereby enjoying frequent opportunities to contemplate the glorious works of creation, and to adore the great Creator.

* * * * *

THE PILLARS OF THE PORCH.

“For he cast two pillars of brass, of eighteen cubits high apiece ; and a line of twelve cubits did compass either of them about.

“And he made two chapiters of molten brass, to set upon the tops of the pillars : the height of the one chapter was five cubits, and the height of the other chapter was five cubits.”—I. Kings, vii. 15, 16.

* * * * * * *

The symbols of Unity, Peace and Plenty are introduced, and their moral application explained.

THE GLOBES.

The globes are two spherical bodies, on the surfaces of which are represented the countries, seas, and various parts of the earth, the face of the heavens, the planetary orbits, and other important particulars. * * * *

[Their principal use, besides serving as maps to distinguish the outward parts of the earth, and the situation of the fixed stars, is to illustrate and explain the phenomena arising from the annual revolution and the diurnal rotation of the earth. Contemplating these bodies, we are inspired with a due reverence for the Deity and his works, and are induced to encourage the studies of astronomy, geography and navigation, and the arts dependent on them, by which society has been so much benefited.]

* * * * *

OF ORDER IN ARCHITECTURE.

By order in architecture is meant a regular arrangement of the projecting parts of a building, especially of the columns, so as to form a beautiful, perfect, and complete whole.

[From the first formation of society, order in architecture may be traced. When the rigor of seasons obliged men to contrive shelter from the inclemency of the weather, they first placed trees on end, and then laid others across, to support a covering. The bands which connected the trees at top and bottom are said to have given rise to the idea of the base and capital of pillars; and from this simple hint originally proceeded the more improved art of architecture.]

The five orders of architecture are the Tuscan, Doric, Ionic, Corinthian and Composite.

THE TUSCAN.

This is the most simple and solid of the five orders. It was invented in Tuscany, whence it derives its name. [Its column is seven diameters high ; and its capital, base, and entablature have but few mouldings.] The simplicity of the construction of this column renders it preferable where ornament would be superfluous.

THE DORIC.

This is plain and natural. It is also the most ancient, and was invented by the Greeks. [Its column is six diameters high, and has seldom any ornaments on base or capital, except mouldings ; though the frieze is distinguished by triglyphs and metopes ; and triglyphs compose the ornaments of the frieze.] The solid composition of this order gives it a preference in structures where strength and a noble simplicity are chiefly required. [The Doric is the best proportioned of all the orders. The several parts of which it is composed are founded on the natural position of solid bodies. The Tuscan precedes the Doric in rank, on account of its resemblance to that pillar in its original state.]

THE IONIC.

The Ionic is a mean between the more solid and the more delicate orders. [Its column is nine diameters high ; its capital is adorned with volutes, and its cornice has dentils.] Both delicacy and ingenuity are displayed in this pillar, the invention of which is attributed to the Ionians, as the famous temple of Diana, at Ephesus, was of this order. It is said to have been formed after the model of a young woman of beautiful shape, with her hair dressed, as a contrast to the Doric order, which was formed after that of a strong, robust man.

THE CORINTHIAN.

This is the richest of the five orders, and is deemed a master-piece of art. [Its column is ten diameters high, and its capital is adorned with two rows of leaves, and eight volutes, which sustain the abacus. The frieze is ornamented with curious devices, the cornice with dentils and modillions.] This order is used in stately and superb structures. It was invented at Corinth, by Calliclimachus, who is said to have conceived the idea of the capital of this pillar from the following remarkable circumstance : Accidentally passing by the tomb of a young woman, he perceived a basket of toys, covered with a tile, placed over an acanthus root. As the branches grew up, they encompassed the basket, until, arriving at the tile, they met with an obstruction, and bent downwards. Callimachus, impressed by the object, set about imitating the figure. The vase of the capital he made to represent the basket, the abacus the tile, and the volutes the bending leaves.

THE COMPOSITE.

This is compounded of the other orders, and was contrived by the Romans. [Its capital has the two rows of leaves of the Corinthian, and the volutes of the Ionic. This column, like the Tuscan and Doric orders, has quarter rounds. It is ten diameters high, and its cornice has dentils or simple modillions.] This pillar is generally found in buildings where strength, elegance and beauty are displayed.

OF THE ORIGIN OF THE ORDERS OF ARCHITECTURE.

[The original orders of architecture are no more than three, the Doric, Ionic and Corinthian, which were invented by the Greeks. To these the Romans have added two—the Tuscan, which they made plainer than the Doric, and the Composite, which was more ornamental, if not more beautiful, than the Corinthian. The first three only show invention and particular character, and essentially differ from each other; the two others have nothing but what is borrowed, and differ only accidentally. The Tuscan is the Doric in its earliest state, and the Composite is the Corinthian modified by the Ionic. To the Greeks, therefore, and not to the Romans, are we indebted for what is great, judicious and distinct in architecture.]

* * * * *

THE FIVE HUMAN SENSES.

They are Hearing, Seeing, Feeling, Smelling, and Tasting.

HEARING.

Hearing is that sense by which we distinguish sounds. The wise and beneficent Author of nature intended by the formation of this sense that we should be social creatures, and receive the greatest and most important part of our knowledge from intercourse with each other.

SEEING.

Seeing is that sense by which we observe the variety displayed in the landscape of nature and in the works of man. [By it we perceive the tempers and dispositions, the passions and affections of our fellow creatures, when they wish most to conceal them ; so that, though the tongue may lie and deceive, the countenance will often display the hypocrisy to the discerning eye.]

FEELING.

Feeling is that sense by which we distinguish the different qualities of bodies, such as heat and cold, hardness and softness, smoothness and solidity.

SMELLING.

Smelling is that sense by which we distinguish odors, the various kinds of which convey different impressions to the mind. By it we are frequently admonished to avoid the influence of things pernicious to health, or to select those which have been wisely designed for our enjoyment or comfort.

TASTING.

Tasting enables us to make a proper discrimination in the choice of our food, and to distinguish that which is wholesome from that which is injurious.

The first three of these : Hearing, Seeing and Feeling, are deemed peculiarly essential among Masons. * * * * * *

THE SEVEN LIBERAL ARTS AND SCIENCES.

These are Grammar, Rhetoric, Logic, Arithmetic, Geometry, Music and Astronomy.

GRAMMAR.

Grammar is the key by which alone the door can be opened to the understanding of speech. It unravels, as it were, the thread of which the web of language is composed, and without it it is impossible to speak with propriety, precision, or purity.

RHETORIC.

Rhetoric is the art of speaking eloquently ; of being persuasive and commanding ; and not only of pleasing the fancy, but of appealing both to the understanding and to the heart.

LOGIC.

Logic directs us how to form clear and distinct ideas of things, and thereby prevents us from being misled by their similitude. This science ought to be cultivated as the foundation or groundwork of our inquiries.

ARITHMETIC.

Arithmetic is the art of numbering, or that part of mathematics which considers the properties of numbers in general. [All the works of the Almighty are made in number, weight and measure. Therefore, to understand them rightly, we ought to understand arithmetical calculations. The greater advancement we make in mathematical science, the more capable we shall be of considering the ordinary objects of our conceptions, and the more easily led to a comprehensive knowledge of our great Creator, and the works of creation.]

GEOMETRY.

Geometry treats of magnitudes in general, where length, breadth, and thickness are considered—from a point to a line, from a line to a superficies, and from a superficies to a solid.

A point is an indivisible part of space.

A line is a figure of one dimension—namely, length.

A superficies is a figure of two dimensions—namely, length and breadth.

A solid is a figure of three dimensions—namely, length, breadth and thickness.

[By this science the architect is enabled to construct his plans and execute his designs; the general to arrange his soldiers; the engineer to mark out grounds for encampments; the geographer to give us a description of the world, delineate the extent of seas, and specify the divisions of empires, kingdoms, and provinces. By it, also, the astronomer is enabled to make his observations, and to ascertain the duration of times and seasons, years and cycles. In fine, geometry forms the basis of many of the most important arts and sciences.]

MUSIC.

Music is that elevated science which affects the passions by sound. [There are few who have not felt the charms of music, and acknowledged its expressions to be intelligible to the heart. It is a language of delightful sensations, far more eloquent than words ; it touches and gently agitates the passions ; it wraps us in melancholy, or elevates us in joy ; it melts us in tenderness, or excites us to war. It is truly congenial to the nature of man, for, by its powerful charms, the most discordant passions may be subdued.]

ASTRONOMY.

Astronomy is that sublime science which inspires the contemplative mind to soar aloft, and read in the heavens the wisdom, strength and beauty of the Great Creator.

“The heavens declare the glory of God ; and the firmament showeth his handiwork.”

[How nobly eloquent of the Deity is the celestial hemisphere, spangled with the most magnificent heralds of his infinite glory ! They speak to the whole universe, and there is no people so barbarous, and no nation so distant, as not to hear and understand their voice.]

[Assisted by Astronomy, we ascertain the laws which govern the heavenly bodies, and by which their motions are directed ; investigate the power by which they revolve in their orbits, discover their size, determine their distance, explain their various phenomena, and correct the fallacy of the senses by the light of truth.]

* * * * *

G

An allusion is here made to the Grand Geometrician of the Universe, before whom all should stand uncovered, and bow with that reverential awe and adoration which is due from the creature to the Creator. * * *

OF THE ADVANTAGES OF GEOMETRY.

Geometry, the first and noblest of sciences, is the basis on which the superstructure of Freemasonry is erected. By geometry we may curiously trace nature through her various windings, to her most concealed recesses. By it we discover the power, wisdom, and goodness of the Grand Artificer of the Universe, and view with delight the wonderful proportions of this vast machine. By it we discover how the planets move in their respective orbits, and demonstrate their various revolutions. By it we account for the return of the seasons, and the variety of scenes which each season displays to the discerning eye. Numberless worlds are around us, all framed by the same Divine Artist, which roll through the vast expanse, controlled by the same unerring law.

A survey of nature, and the observation of her beautiful proportions, first induced man to imitate the divine plan, and study symmetry and order. This gave rise to society, and birth to every useful art. The architect began to design, and the plans he laid down, improved by time and experience, have led to the production of works which are the admiration of every age.

The lapse of time, the ruthless hand of ignorance, and the devastations of war, have laid waste and destroyed many valuable monuments of antiquity, on which the utmost exertions of human genius have been employed. Even the temple of Solomon, so spacious and magnificent, and constructed by so many celebrated artists, escaped not the unsparing ravages of barbarous force. Freemasonry, notwithstanding, has still survived. The attentive ear receives the sound from the destructive tongue, and the mysteries of Freemasonry are safely lodged in the repository of faithful breasts. Tools and implements of architecture, and symbolic emblems most expressive, are selected by the Fraternity to imprint upon the mind wise and serious truths; and thus, through a succession of ages, are transmitted unimpaired the most excellent tenets of our Institution.

CHARGE AT PASSING TO THE DEGREE OF FELLOW CRAFT.

BROTHER—Being advanced to the Fellow Craft degree, you are to be congratulated on your preferment.

It is unnecessary to recapitulate the duties which, as a Fellow Craft, you are bound to discharge, or to enlarge upon the necessity of a strict adherence to them, as your own experience must have convinced you of their value. Our laws and regulations you are faithfully to support, and be always ready to assist in seeing them duly executed. You are not to palliate nor to aggravate the offenses of your brethren, but in the decision of every trespass against our rules, you are to judge with candor, admonish with friendship, and reprehend with justice.

The study of the liberal arts, that valuable branch of education which tends so effectually to polish and adorn the mind, is earnestly recommended to your consideration.

Your past behavior and regular deportment have merited the honor which we have now conferred. In your new character, you will be expected to conform to the principles of the Fraternity and steadily persevere in the practice of every commendable virtue. Such is the nature of your engagements as a Fellow Craft, and to those duties you are bound by the most sacred ties.

End of the Fellow Craft Degree.

MASTER MASON.

SECTION I.

* * * * *

* * * * *

* * * * *

SECTION II.

* * * * *

SECTION II.

SEA COAST AT JOPPA.

* * * * *

* * * * *

SECTION II.

* * * * *

* * * * *

SECTION II.

SECTION III.

1,453 COLUMNS.

2,906 PILASTERS.

3 GRAND MASTERS.

3,300 OVERSEERS.

80,000 FELLOW CRAFTS.

70,000 ENTERED APPRENTICES.

SECTION III.

SECTION III.

MASTER MASON DEGREE.

FIRST SECTION.

ADMISSION OF THE CANDIDATE.

* * * * *

The following Psalm may be chanted in place of singing an ode :

1. In thee, O Lord, have I put my trust ; let me never be put to confusion, but rid me, and deliver me, in thy righteousness ; incline thine ear unto me and save me.

2. Be thou my stronghold, whereunto I may always resort : thou hast promised to help me, for thou art my house of defense, and my castle.

3. Deliver me, O my God, out of the hand of the ungodly, out of the hand of the unrighteous and cruel man.

4. For thou, O Lord God, art the thing that I long for : thou art my hope, even from my youth.

5. O let my mouth be filled with thy praise, that I may sing of thy glory and honor all the day long.

6. O what great troubles and adversities hast thou showed me ! and yet didst thou turn and refresh me ; yea, and broughtest me from the deep of the earth again.

7. My tongue also shall talk of thy righteousness all the day long ; for they are confounded and brought unto shame that seek to do me evil.

The following passage of Scripture must be rehearsed or chanted during this section of the ceremony :

“Remember now thy Creator in the days of thy youth, while the evil days come not, nor the years draw nigh when thou shalt say, I have no pleasure in them ; while the sun, or the light, or the moon, or the stars, be not darkened, nor the clouds return after the rain ; in the day when the keepers of the house shall tremble, and the strong men shall bow themselves, and the grinders cease because they are few, and those that look out of the windows be darkened, and the doors shall be shut in the streets ; when the sound of the grinding is low, and he shall rise up at the voice of the bird, and all the daughters of music shall be brought low ; also when they shall be afraid of that which is high, and fears shall be in the way, and the almond tree shall flourish, and the grasshopper shall be a burden, and desire shall fail : because man goeth to his long home, and the mourners go about the streets : or ever the silver cord be loosed, or the golden bowl be broken, or the pitcher be broken at the fountain, or the wheel broken at the cistern. Then shall the dust return to the earth as it was : and the spirit shall return unto God who gave it."—Ecclesiastes, xii.

* * * * *

Freemasonry, in every degree, is progressive. A thorough knowledge of it can be attained only by time, patience, and application. In the Entered Apprentice degree, when we passed the portals of our mystic temple, the moral obligations of man were presented to our view, and we were instructed in the duty we owe to God, our neighbor and ourselves.

In the Fellow Craft degree we were inducted into the mysteries of moral and physical science, and taught to revere the goodness and majesty of the Creator, by a contemplation of his wondrous works.

But the Master Mason degree, with its beautiful symbolism, is of deeper and more abiding interest. It is calculated to bind men together in a strong bond of brotherly love, and it conveys to us a lesson which human wisdom alone will not suffice to teach, for it points to the darkness of death and the obscurity of the grave, as a forerunner of the brilliant light which shall shine forth at the resurrection of the just, when these mortal bodies, which have been long slumbering in the dust, shall be awakened, reunited with their kindred spirits, and clothed with immortality.

* * * * *

WORKING TOOLS.

The Working Tools of a Master Mason are all the implements of Masonry indiscriminately, especially the Trowel.

THE TROWEL

is an instrument used by operative masons to spread the cement which unites the building into one common mass ; but we, as Free and Accepted Masons, are taught to make use of it symbolically for the more noble and glorious purpose of spreading the cement of brotherly love and affection—that cement which unites us in one sacred band, or society of friends and brothers, among whom no contention should ever exist but that noble contention, or rather emulation, of who best can work and best agree.

SECOND SECTION.

* * * * *

TUNE—Pleyel's Hymn.—7's.

SOLEMN strikes the funeral chime,
Notes of our departing time,
As we journey here below,
Through a pilgrimage of woe.

Mortals, now indulge a tear,
For mortality is here.

See how wide her trophies wave,
O'er the slumbers of the grave.

Here another guest we bring.
Seraphs of celestial wing,
To our funeral altar come ;
Waft our friend and brother home.

Lord of all below, above.
Fill our souls with truth and love.
As dissolves our earthly tie,
Take us to thy Lodge on high.

The following prayer is prescribed for this section :

PRAYER.

Thou, O God ! knowest our down-sitting and our up-rising, and understandest our thoughts afar off. Shield and defend us from the evil intentions of our enemies, and support us under the trials and afflictions we are destined to endure while traveling through this vale of tears. Man that is born of a woman is of few days, and full of trouble. He cometh forth like a flower, and is cut down ; he fleeth also as a shadow, and continueth not. Seeing his days are determined, the number of his months are with thee ; thou hast appointed his bounds that he cannot pass ; turn from him, that he may rest, till he shall accomplish his day. For there is hope of a tree, if it be cut down, that it will sprout again, and that the tender branch thereof will not cease. But man dieth and wasteth away ; yea, man giveth up the ghost, and where is he ? As the waters fail from the sea, and the flood decayeth and drieth up, so man lieth down, and riseth not up until the heavens shall be no more. Yet, O Lord ! have compassion on the children of thy creation, administer them comfort in time of trouble and save them with an everlasting salvation. Amen.

Response—So mote it be.

THIRD SECTION.

HISTORICAL.

[Sacred history informs us that it was determined in the council of Infinite Wisdom that a Temple should be founded in Jerusalem, which should be erected to God, and dedicated to the service of his holy name. The high honor and distinguished privilege of performing this sacred service was denied to David, king of Israel, for the Scriptures inform us that he was a man of blood, and that during almost the entire period of his reign, his kingdom was disturbed by tumultuous confusions and wars. But God promised David that out of his loins he would raise up a seed to serve Him, which divine and ever memorable promise was afterward fulfilled in the person of Solomon, his son. After David had been gathered to his fathers, and the last honors paid to his memory, Solomon, having ascended the throne, wielded the sceptre of Israel, and peace and harmony reigned throughout her borders. Then King Solomon made preparation for his great work—the building of the house of the Lord; and desiring to avail himself of the well-known skill of the Tyrian builders, he sent to Hiram, king of Tyre, saying: “As thou didst deal with David, my father, even so deal with me." And King Hiram answered, saying : " I will send thee a cunning man, endued with understanding, the son of a woman of the daughters of Dan, a man skillful to work in gold, silver, brass, iron, stone, and in timber, in purple, blue, fine linen, and in crimson. Also, to grave any manner of graving, and to find out every device which shall be put to him. And we will cut wood out of Lebanon, as much as thou shalt need ; and we will bring it to thee in floats by sea to Joppa, and thou shalt carry it up to Jerusalem."

And there was peace between Solomon, king of Israel, and Hiram, king of Tyre, for they made a league together.]

The magnificent structure—Solomon's Temple—was founded in the fourth year of his reign, on the second day of the month Zif, the second month of the sacred year. It was located on Mount Moriah, near the place where Abraham was about to offer up his son Isaac, and where David met and appeased the destroying angel. Tradition informs us that, although more than seven years were occupied in building it, yet during the whole term, it did not rain in the day time, that the workmen might not be obstructed in their labor. From sacred history we learn that there was not the sound of axe, hammer, or any tool of iron, heard in the house, while it was building.

The Temple thus progressing by direction of K. S., with the assistance of H. K. of T., and under the immediate supervision of * * was nearly completed when * * * * *

* * * * *

It has been the practice of all ages to erect monuments to the memory of departed worth.

* * * * *

The temple was symbolically supported by three grand pillars, denominated Wisdom, Strength and Beauty. The pillar of Wisdom was represented by * * * *. The pillar of Strength was represented by * * * *, and the pillar of Beauty was represented by * * * * .

[It is said to have been further supported by fourteen hundred and fifty-three columns and two thousand nine hundred and six pilasters. There were employed in its construction three Grand Masters, three thousand and three hundred Masters or Overseers of the work, eighty thousand Fellow Crafts, and seventy thousand Entered Apprentices or bearers of burdens. All these were classed and arranged in such manner, by the wisdom of Solomon, that neither envy, discord, nor confusion was suffered to interrupt or disturb the peace and good-fellowship which prevailed among the workmen.] The workmen were divided into classes or * *

E. A.	F. C.	M. M.
<hr/>	<hr/>	<hr/>
70,000.	80,000.	3,300.
$7\frac{1}{6}$	$5\frac{2}{3}$	3

* * * * *

There are in this degree two classes of emblems or symbols, the first of which consists of the Three Steps, the Pot of Incense, the Bee-Hive, the Book of Constitutions guarded by the Tyler's Sword, the Sword pointing to a naked heart, the All-Seeing Eye, the Anchor and Ark, the Forty-seventh problem of Euclid, the Hour-Glass and the Scythe. They are thus explained.

THE THREE STEPS,

usually delineated upon the Master's carpet, are emblematical of the three principal stages of human life, youth, manhood and age. In youth, as Entered Apprentices, we ought industriously to occupy our minds in the attainment of useful knowledge. In manhood, as Fellow Crafts, we should apply our knowledge to the discharge of our respective duties to God, our neighbor and ourselves ; so that in age, as Master Masons, we may enjoy the happy reflection consequent upon a well-spent life, and die in the hope of a glorious immortality.

THE POT OF INCENSE

is an emblem of a pure heart, which is always an acceptable sacrifice to the Deity. As this glows with fervent heat, so should our hearts continually glow with gratitude to the great and beneficent author of our existence, for the manifold blessings and comforts we enjoy.

THE BEE-HIVE

is an emblem of industry, and recommends the practice of that virtue to all created beings.

[Contemplating humanity, we behold man in his infancy more helpless than the brute creation. He is then incapable of providing himself with sustenance, of guarding himself against danger, or of sheltering himself from the inclemencies of the weather. It might have pleased the great Creator of heaven and earth to make man independent of all other beings ; but as dependence is one of the strongest bonds of society, men were made dependent on each other for protection and security, as they thereby enjoy better opportunities of fulfilling the duties of reciprocal love and friendship. Thus man was formed for active and social life ; and he who will not endeavor to add to the common stock of knowledge may be deemed a drone in the hive of nature, a useless member of society, and unworthy of the protection of Masons.]

THE BOOK OF CONSTITUTIONS, GUARDED BY THE TYLER'S SWORD,

reminds us that we should be ever watchful and guarded in our words and actions, particularly when before the enemies of Masonry; ever bearing in remembrance those truly Masonic virtues, silence and circumspection.

THE SWORD, POINTING TO A NAKED HEART, demonstrates that justice will sooner or later overtake us; and that although our thoughts, words and actions may be hidden from the eyes of man, yet that

ALL-SEEING EYE

whom the Sun, Moon and Stars obey, and under whose watchful care even Comets perform their stupendous revolutions, penetrates the inmost recesses of the human Heart, and will judge us according to our merits.

THE ANCHOR AND ARK

are emblems of a well-grounded hope and a well-spent life.

They are emblematical of that divine Ark which shall safely bear us over this tempestuous sea of troubles, and of that Anchor which shall safely moor us in a peaceful harbor, where the wicked cease from troubling and the weary shall find rest.

THE FORTY-SEVENTH PROBLEM OF EUCLID*

is a geometrical theorem attributed to Pythagoras, an eminent Greek philosopher, who lived about five hundred years before Christ. [This wise man

* This problem is thus enunciated by Euclid: "In any right-angled triangle, the square which is described upon the side subtending the right angle, is equal to the square described upon the sides which contain the right angle."—EUCLID, Book I., Prob. 47.

enriched his mind by the acquisition of a knowledge of the sciences and especially of Geometry. In this he drew out many problems and theorems, and among the number was this, which caused him in the joy of his heart to exclaim, "Eureka!" which signifies, I have found it.

As a Masonic emblem, its contemplation is calculated to induce a study of Geometry and the other liberal arts and sciences.]

THE HOUR-GLASS

is an emblem of human life.

[Behold ! how swiftly the sands run, and how rapidly our lives are drawing to a close ! We cannot without astonishment behold the little particles contained within this glass, as almost imperceptibly they pass away ; and yet, to our surprise, in the short space of an hour are all exhausted. Thus wastes man ! To-day, he puts forth the tender leaves of hope ; to-morrow, blossoms and bears his blushing honors thick upon him ; the next day comes a frost, which nips the shoot, and when he thinks his greatness is still aspiring, he falls, like autumn leaves, to enrich our mother earth.]

THE SCYTHE

is an emblem of time, which cuts the brittle thread of life and launches us into eternity.

[Behold ! what havoc the scythe of time makes among the human race ! If, by chance, we should escape the numerous evils incident to childhood and youth, and with health and vigor arrive at the years of manhood, yet, withal, we must soon be cut down by the all-devouring scythe of time, and be gathered into the land where our fathers have gone before us.]

The second * * class of emblems consists of

They are thus explained.

* * * * *

These emblems afford subjects of serious and solemn reflection to the rational and contemplative mind ; and while they admonish us that our bodies must perish and mingle with the dust, yet they remind us that our souls will survive the grave, and never, never die.

Thus we close the explanation of the emblems upon the solemn thought of death, which, without revelation, is dark and gloomy ; but the Master Mason is revived by the evergreen and ever-living sprig of faith in the merits of the Lion of the tribe of Judah, which inspires the bright hope that on the glorious morn of the resurrection his body will rise and become as incorruptible as his soul, and that he may enjoy the perfect consummation and bliss of a blessed immortality.

Then let us imitate * * * * * in his virtuous conduct ; in his unfeigned piety to God ; in his inflexible fidelity to his trust ; that we may welcome the approach of death and receive him as a kind messenger sent from our Supreme Grand Master, to translate us from this imperfect, to that all-perfect, glorious, and celestial Lodge above, where the Supreme Architect of the Universe presides.

CHARGE AT RAISING TO THE SUBLIME DEGREE OF MASTER MASON.

Brother—Your zeal for the institution of Freemasonry, the progress you have made in its mysteries, and your conformity to its regulations, have pointed you out as a proper object of our favor and esteem. You are now bound by duty, honor and gratitude, to be faithful to your trust, to support the dignity of your character on every occasion, and to recommend, by precept and example, a constant observance of the tenets of the Fraternity.

.

In the character of a Master Mason you are authorized to correct the errors and irregularities of your less-informed brethren, and to guard them against a breach of fidelity. To preserve the reputation of the Fraternity unsullied must be your constant care; and for this purpose, it is your province to recommend to your inferiors, obedience and submission; to your equals, courtesy and affability; to your superiors, kindness and condescension. Universal benevolence you are always to inculcate, and by the regularity of your own behavior, afford the best example for the conduct of others less informed. The ancient landmarks of the Fraternity, you are carefully to preserve, and never suffer them to be infringed, nor countenance a deviation from its established customs.

Your honor and reputation are concerned in supporting with dignity the character you now bear. Let no motive, therefore, make you swerve from your duty, violate your vows, or betray your trust; but be true and faithful, and emulate the conduct of that celebrated artist whom you have this evening represented. You will thus render yourself deserving of the honor which we have conferred, and merit the confidence we have reposed in you.

ADDRESS.

My Brother, we now receive you as a Master Mason, and a member of ——— Lodge No. ——. As such you are entitled to all the rights and privileges of the Fraternity.

We trust that the influence of the ceremonies through which you have passed will encourage you in the performance of every duty here below, and when your labors with us shall have ceased, that you may be raised by our Supreme Grand Master to the enjoyment of fadeless light and immortal life, in that heavenly kingdom where faith and hope shall end, and love and joy prevail throughout eternity.

End of the Master Mason Degree.

PAST MASTER DEGREE.

This degree should be carefully studied and well understood by every Master of a Lodge. It treats of the government of the Fraternity ; the disposition of its rulers ; and illustrates their requisite qualifications.

The degree can be conferred only in a regular Lodge room, at a time directed by the Worshipful Master (or by the Grand Master), and by him or such Past Master as he may designate for that purpose, and only upon a brother who has been elected or appointed to be Worshipful Master of a regular Lodge.

No one is permitted to be present at the conferring of this degree except those who have been installed as Worshipful Masters of regular lodges.

* * * * *

After the candidate has assumed the obligation of the degree and has been instructed in its mysteries, he must be impressively taught that he is still but a brother Mason, and that all the authority he may exercise springs only from the body of Masonry.

* * * * *

End of the Past Master Degree.

CEREMONY OF CONSTITUTION.

At the time appointed, the Grand Master and other officers of the Grand Lodge meet in a convenient room near to that in which the Lodge to be constituted is assembled, and open the Grand Lodge.

Meanwhile, the brethren who are to compose the new Lodge assemble in the Lodge room or the place designated for the ceremony, the platform or East of which will have been prepared for the suitable accommodation of the Grand Lodge and provided with seats.

The room should not be tyed until the Grand Officers have entered and assumed their respective stations and places.

In the centre of the room an oblong table or platform will be placed, covered and draped with white linen or satin, to the floor. Upon this table or platform is placed the "Lodge," * covered tightly with white linen (or satin) and loosely draped with the same material.

Another table should be placed on the floor immediately in front of the Grand Master, for the accommodation of the three Great Lights of the Grand Lodge and the Book of Constitutions.

The Great Lights of the Lodge about to be constituted should not appear, nor should the representative Lights be lighted.

These arrangements being made, one of the members of the Lodge to be constituted (preferably a Past Master) proceeds to the Grand Master with the following message:

* What is here referred to as the "Lodge" is a small oblong box or casket.

“Most Worshipful Grand Master—The brethren to whom the Grand Lodge was pleased to grant a warrant, authorizing them to form and open a Lodge of Free and Accepted Masons in the town (or city) of ———, to be known as ——— Lodge, No. ———, are now assembled. They are desirous that their Lodge be constituted, and their officers installed, agreeably to the ancient usages and customs of the Craft; for which purpose they have sent this message, and now await your pleasure.”

The Grand Master makes reply as follows:

“Brother—Inform the brethren that the Grand Master and the officers of the Grand Lodge will forthwith attend, and comply with their desires.”

A procession is then formed in the following order:

GRAND MARSHAL.

Grand Tyler, with drawn sword.

Grand Stewards, with white rods.

Grand Pursuivant, with drawn sword.

Grand Organist.

District Deputy Grand Masters.

Grand Instructor. Grand Chaplain.

Deputy Grand Secretary.

Grand Secretary.

Grand Treasurer.

Burning taper borne by a Past Master.

The Holy Bible, Square and Compasses, borne by a Past Master, supported by two Stewards with white rods.

Two burning tapers, borne by two Past Masters.

Tuscan and Composite Orders.

Doric, Ionic and Corinthian Orders.

Past Grand Wardens.

Past Deputy Grand Masters.

Past Grand Masters.

The Celestial and Terrestrial Globes, borne by two Past Masters.

Junior Grand Warden, bearing a silver vessel of oil.

Senior Grand Warden, bearing a silver vessel of wine.

Deputy Grand Master, bearing a golden vessel of corn.

Book of Constitutions,* borne by the Master of the oldest Lodge.

Grand Master,

supported by Senior and Junior Grand Deacons, with black rods.

Grand Sword Bearer.

The Grand Marshal conducts the procession to the Lodge room or other place where the ceremony is to be performed.

As the procession enters the hall, those assembled, having been previously instructed by the Grand Marshal, rise, and remain standing until seated by the sound of the gavel of the Grand Master.

The procession passes on the north side of the Lodge and is halted by the Grand Marshal until in perfect order within the room ; the Grand Tyler then having arrived near the usual place of the Senior Deacon in a Lodge room. The Great Lights are at once placed on the table in front of the Grand Master.

* The Book of Constitutions should always be borne in processions before the Grand Master or the Deputy Grand Master, but not before any officer of inferior rank.

The Grand Marshal then gives the order to advance ; whereupon the procession makes three circuits around the Lodge, starting from the above position, during which solemn music should be performed, or a suitable ode be sung.

ODE.

AIR—Shirland, S. M.

Great source of light and love !
To thee our songs we raise.
O, in thy temple, Lord above,
Hear and accept our praise.

Bless Thou this festive day,
Prosper its hoped design !
Be thou our guide, our help, our stay,
Be all our glory thine.

May this fraternal band
Thus consecrated, blest,
For truth and love distinguished stand,
In purity be dressed.

During the first circuit, the first Past Master deposits his burning taper, and the Junior Grand Warden the vessel of oil, at the south of the "Lodge."

During the second circuit another Past Master deposits his burning taper, and the Senior Grand Warden the vessel of wine, at the west of the "Lodge."

During the third circuit the other Past Master deposits his burning taper, and the Deputy Grand Master the vessel of corn, at the east of the "Lodge," and the Past Masters place the Globes at the right and left, i.e., the north and the south of the "Lodge," and near the west end thereof.

When, upon the completion of the third circuit, the right of the procession reaches the East, as when first halted, the brethren open to the right and left, and the Grand Master, supported by the Grand Deacons, preceded by the Book of Constitutions, and by the Grand Sword Bearer, and followed by the Deputy Grand Master, advances through the lines and assumes the East. The Book of Constitutions is at once placed on the table in front of the Grand Master. The Deacons halt at the steps of the platform, and the Deputy Grand Master takes his position at the right of the Grand Master.

The Grand Master then orders the officers of the Grand Lodge to repair to their respective stations and placés. After this has been done, the Grand Master sounds the gavel, and all are seated.

If the ceremonies are private, the Grand Lodge is then purged and tyled.

A brief address is then given by the Grand Master, stating the object of the communication, after which, in case another officer officiates for the Grand Master, the Grand Secretary is ordered by such officer to read the commission authorizing him to act.

The Grand Chaplain will then make the following, or some suitable

PRAYER.

"Great and eternal God, the universal Father, Creator of worlds and Ruler of men, we bow before thee to render praises to thy great and holy name. We pray thee to bless the work now begun, with the corn of strength, the wine of refreshment and the oil of joy. We invoke thy blessing upon this great brotherhood, and thy aid in promoting its unity, harmony and prosperity. O, Thou Creator of the Universe, look down from thy heavenly abode, and from thy hand pour out upon this Fraternity those blessings with which thou didst aforetime bless our fathers. And when we shall have ended our labors on earth may we forever sing the songs of deliverance and joy in that Heavenly Lodge where love is supreme and the ties of fraternity and friendship are never to be broken. Amen."

Response—So mote it be.

The following or some suitable ode is then to be sung :

ODE.

AIR.—Duke Street, L. M.

How blest the sacred tie that binds,
In sweet communion kindred minds;
How sweet the heavenly course they run,
Whose hearts, whose faith, whose hopes are one.

How dear to us the loved retreat,
Where pure delights each brother greet;
Within it, how our raptures swell,
There's none but kindred souls can tell.

Nor shall such glowing flame expire,
When fades and fails frail nature's fire;
But brighter beam in realms above,
In heavenly joy, in heavenly love.

The Deputy Grand Master then addresses the Grand Master as follows:

“Most Worshipful Grand Master—The brethren here assembled, to whom the Grand Lodge granted a warrant for the formation of —— Lodge, No. ——, now desire to be constituted into a regular Lodge, agreeably to the ancient usages and customs of the Craft.”

The Grand Master then says:

“Upon due deliberation, the Grand Lodge of the Most Ancient and Honorable Society of Free and Accepted Masons of the State of New Jersey has granted to these brethren a Warrant conferring upon them the rights and privileges of a regularly constituted Lodge.”

The Grand Master then orders the Grand Secretary or the Deputy Grand Master to read the Warrant, which is done. Then the Grand Master says:

“We shall now proceed, according to ancient usage, to constitute these brethren into a regular Lodge, agreeably to their request, and in conformity to the authority contained in the warrant.”

The Grand Marshal then forms the brethren who are to compose the new Lodge before the table which supports the "Lodge," facing the East ; the Worshipful Master on the right, and the others in order of their rank. If these are too numerous to stand in a straight line across the Lodge, they may be placed in a semi-circle, the two ends of the line partially surrounding the table and extending toward the East.

The Grand Master then rises and constitutes the new Lodge in the following form :

"In the name of the Grand Lodge of the Most Ancient and Honorable Society of Free and Accepted Masons of the State of New Jersey, I now constitute and form you, my brethren, into a Lodge of Free and Accepted Masons. I empower you to act henceforth as a regular Lodge, constituted in conformity with the regulations of Freemasonry, and the Charges of our ancient and honorable Fraternity ; and may the Supreme Architect of the Universe counsel, direct and prosper you in all your doings."

Response—So mote it be.

The Grand Master and Grand Officers then leave their stations and places and step upon the floor, retaining their relative positions, and encompass the "Lodge" and the brethren of the new Lodge.

The brethren then kneel on the right knee. Solemn music is performed, and at its close, the "Lodge" is uncovered by the Grand Stewards.

The Grand Chaplain then offers the first part of the Consecration

PRAYER.

“Great Architect of the Universe, Maker and Ruler of all worlds, deign from thy celestial temple, from realms of light and glory, to bless us in the purposes of our present assembly. We humbly invoke thee to give us wisdom in all our doings, strength of mind in all our difficulties, and beauty of harmony in all our communications. Permit us, O Thou Author of light and life, great source of love and happiness, to erect this Lodge, and now solemnly to consecrate it to the honor of thy name. Glory be to God on high.”

Response—“As it was in the beginning, is now and ever shall be, world without end. Amen.”

The brethren then rise.

The Deputy Grand Master then takes the golden vessel of corn, the Senior Grand Warden the silver vessel of wine, and the Junior Grand Warden the silver vessel of oil, and each in turn hands the vessel which he holds to the Grand Master and returns to his place. The Grand Master, as he receives the vessels, sprinkles the elements on the “Lodge,” and hands the vessels to the Senior Deacon, who replaces them upon the table as they were before.

The brethren then kneel, as before, and the Grand Chaplain then concludes the Consecration

PRAYER.

“Grant, O Lord our God, that those who are now about to be invested with the government of this Lodge may be endued with wisdom to instruct their brethren in all their duties. May the practice of Brotherly Love, Relief and Truth always prevail among the members of this Lodge, and may this bond of union continue to strengthen the Lodges throughout the world. Bless all our brethren wherever dispersed, and grant speedy relief to all who are either oppressed or distressed. We affectionately commend to thee all the members of thy whole family. May they increase in the knowledge of thee, and in the love of each other. Finally, may we finish all our work here below with thine approbation and then have our transition from this earthly abode to thy heavenly temple above, there to enjoy light, glory and bliss ineffable and eternal. Glory be to God on high.”

Response—“As it was in the beginning, is now, and ever shall be, world without end. Amen.”

The brethren then rise.

The Grand Master, standing with his hands stretched forth over the Lodge, then says :

“To the memory of the Holy Saints John we consecrate this Lodge. May every brother revere their character and emulate their virtues. Glory be to God on high.”

Response—“As it was in the beginning, is now and ever shall be, world without end. Amen.”

Solemn music is then performed, after which the Grand Stewards cover the “Lodge.”

The Grand Officers then assume their proper stations and places, the brethren of the new Lodge are seated, and the ceremony of Installation proceeds, as follows :

CEREMONY OF INSTALLATION.*

 The Grand Master says :

“ This Lodge having been constituted, I shall now proceed to install its officers. Worshipful Brother Grand Marshal, present Brother ———, who has been appointed Worshipful Master.”

If the brother appointed Worshipful Master has not received the degree of Past Master, the Grand Master or some Past Master (by his order when present, or by his Dispensation when absent), with a sufficient number of Past Masters, shall confer upon him the Past Master degree. To avoid delay, it is recommended that this ceremony be performed previous to the assembling of the Grand Lodge.

The Grand Marshal then presents the brother and says :

“ Most Worshipful Grand Master—I present Brother ———, to be installed Worshipful Master of this Lodge.”

The Grand Master says :

“ Right Worshipful Deputy Grand Master—Have you carefully examined the brother, and do you find him qualified to discharge the duties of the office for which he has been chosen ? ”

The Deputy Grand Master replies :

* See page 135 for Annual Installation.

Most Worshipful Grand Master—I find him to be qualified and of good morals, of great skill, true and trusty; and I doubt not he will discharge his duty with fidelity and honor.

In the annual Installation of Officers, the form beginning at  (page 134) will be as follows:

The retiring Master, or other installing officer, who must be a Past Master, says:

“Brother Marshal: Conduct Brother ———, who has been elected Worshipful Master, before the altar.”

If the brother elected Worshipful Master has not previously received the degree of Past Master, the retiring Master, or in case of his disability some other Past Master, with a sufficient number of Past Masters, shall confer upon him the Past Master degree. It is the duty of the retiring Master to install his successor, or cause the same to be done.

The Marshal, who must be a Past Master, conducts the brother to the altar, and says:

“Worshipful Master—I present Brother ———, to be installed Worshipful Master of this Lodge.”

The Master says:

“Brother Marshal—Have you carefully examined the brother, and do you find him qualified to discharge the duties of the office for which he has been elected ?”

The Marshal replies:

“Worshipful Master—I find him to be qualified and of good morals, of great skill, true and trusty; and I doubt not he will discharge his duty with fidelity and honor.”

The Grand Master (or, in the annual installation, the Worshipful Master), says :

“Brother ——, I congratulate you upon your appointment (or election) as Worshipful Master of this Lodge, and it will afford me great pleasure to invest you with the authority and the insignia of your office. Previous to your investiture, however, it is necessary that you signify your assent to those ancient Charges and Regulations which point out the duty of the Master of a Lodge.”

The Grand Master (or installing officer) then reads, or orders to be read to the Master elect, a summary of the ancient Charges, as follows:

I. “You agree to be a good man and true, and strictly to obey the moral law.

II. “You agree to be a peaceable citizen, and cheerfully to conform to the laws of the country in which you reside.

III. "You promise not to be concerned in plots and conspiracies against the government, but patiently to submit to the decisions of the supreme legislature.

IV. "You agree to pay a proper respect to the civil magistrates, to work diligently, live creditably, and act honorably by all men.

V. "You agree to hold in veneration the original rulers and patrons of Freemasonry, and their regular successors, supreme and subordinate, according to their stations, and to submit to the awards and resolutions of your brethren when convened, in every case consistent with the constitutions of the Fraternity.

VI. "You agree to avoid private piques and quarrels, and to guard against intemperance and excess.

VII. "You agree to be cautious in your behavior, courteous to your brethren, and faithful to your Lodge.

VIII. "You promise to respect genuine brethren, and to discountenance impostors and all dissenters from the original plan of Masonry.

IX. "You agree to promote the general good of society, to cultivate the social virtues, and to propagate the knowledge of the mystic art.

X. "You promise to pay homage to the Grand Master for the time being, and to his officers when duly installed ; and strictly to conform to every edict of the Grand Lodge, or General Assembly of Masons, that is not subversive of the principles and groundwork of Masonry.

XI. "You admit that it is not in the power of any man, or body of men, to make innovations in the body of Masonry.

XII. "You promise a regular attendance on the committees and communications of the Grand Lodge, on receiving proper notice ; and to pay attention to all the duties of Masonry, on convenient occasions.

XIII. "You admit that no new Lodge shall be formed without permission of the Grand Lodge ; and that no countenance be given to any irregular Lodge, or to any person clandestinely initiated therein, as being contrary to the ancient Charges of Freemasonry.

XIV. "You admit that no person can be regularly made a Mason in, or admitted a member of, any regular Lodge, without previous notice, and due inquiry into his character.

XV. "You agree that no visitor shall be received into your Lodge without due examination, and producing proper vouchers of his having been initiated in a regular Lodge.

"These are the Regulations of Free and Accepted Masons. Do you submit to these Charges and promise to support these Regulations, as Masters have done in all ages before you?"

The Master is to answer: "I do."

"Brother ———, in consequence of your conformity to the Charges and Regulations of the Fraternity, you are now to be installed Master of this Lodge, in full confidence in your care, and in your skill and capacity to govern the same.

"You are now invested with the insignia of your office, and the furniture of the Lodge and the implements of our profession are placed in your charge. These are emblematical of a true Masonic life, and are:—

"The Holy Bible, the Great Light in Masonry, which guides us to all truth, directs our path to the temple of happiness, and points out the whole duty of man.

"The Square, which teaches us to regulate our actions and harmonize our conduct with the principles of morality and virtue.

"The Compasses, which teach us to limit our desires in every station, that rising to eminence by merit, we may live respected and die regretted.

"The Rule, which directs us to punctually observe our duty, press forward in the path of virtue, and inclining neither to the right nor to the left, in all our actions to have eternity in view.

“The Line, the emblem of moral rectitude, which teaches us to avoid dissimulation in conversation and action, and to walk in the path which leads to a blessed immortality.

“The Book of Constitutions, which you are to search at all times, and cause to be read in your Lodge, that none may pretend ignorance of the excellent precepts it enjoins.

“The Warrant, which you now receive, and by the authority of which this Lodge is held. You are carefully to preserve it and duly transmit it to your successor in office.

* “The By-Laws of the Lodge, which you now receive. These you are to see carefully observed and faithfully executed.”

The Master is then conducted to the East by the Marshal and placed at the left hand of the Grand Master (or installing officer), who presents him with the gavel, and says:

“I present you with the gavel, the potent emblem of Masonic authority. I trust that in your hands its mandates will not be unheeded, for it should never sound in vain.”

* This clause is not to be used at the installation of the officers of a new Lodge, but only at subsequent annual installations.

The Grand Master (or installing officer) then takes back the gavel, and calling up the brethren, says :

“Brethren, behold your Master ! Master, behold your brethren !”

The grand honors are then given to the Worshipful Master by the Lodge, the Marshal leading in the ceremony. (Public or private, according to circumstances.)

When the ceremony takes place in the Lodge room and is private. at this point a procession is formed, under the direction of the Marshal, which marches three times around the room, singing an appropriate ode. As the brethren advance, they pay to the Worshipful Master due homage by the usual salutations in the different degrees.

The Wardens are then severally presented by the Marshal to the Grand Master (or installing officer), who delivers to each his appropriate charge.

THE SENIOR WARDEN.

“ Brother ———, you have been appointed (or elected) Senior Warden of this Lodge, and are now invested with the jewel of your office.

“ The Level demonstrates that we are descended from the same stock, partake of the same nature, and share the same hope ; and though distinctions among men are necessary to preserve subordination, yet no eminence of station should make us forget that we are brethren ; and that he who is placed on the lowest spoke of fortune’s wheel may be entitled to our regard ; because a time will come and the wisest knows not how soon, when all distinctions but that of goodness shall cease ; and death, the grand leveler of human greatness, reduce us to the same state.

“ Your regular attendance at the meetings of the Lodge is essentially necessary. In the absence of the Master you are to govern this Lodge ; in his presence you are to assist him in the government of it. I firmly rely on your knowledge of Masonry, your regard for its principles, and your attachment to the Lodge, for the faithful discharge of the duties of this important trust. Look well to the West! ”

THE JUNIOR WARDEN.

“ Brother ———, you have been appointed (or elected) Junior Warden of this Lodge, and are now invested with the jewel of your office.

“The Plumb admonishes us to walk uprightly in our several stations, to hold the scale of justice in equal poise, to observe the just medium between intemperance and pleasure, and to make our passions and prejudices coincide with the line of duty. To you is committed the superintendence of the Craft during the hours of refreshment. It is, therefore, indispensably necessary that you should not only be temperate and discreet in the indulgence of your own inclinations, but that you should carefully observe that none of the Craft be suffered to convert the purposes of refreshment into those of intemperance and excess. Your regular and punctual attendance is required ; and I have no doubt that you will faithfully execute the duty which you owe to your present position. Look well to the South !”

At the installation of the officers of a new Lodge, the Grand Master will at this point request the Worshipful Master to announce the names of the Treasurer and the Secretary selected by the brethren, and also the names of the officers appointed by him.

The Marshal then presents the Treasurer.

THE TREASURER.

“ Brother ———, you have been appointed (or elected) Treasurer of this Lodge, and are now invested with the jewel of your office.

“It is your duty to receive all moneys from the hands of the Secretary, giving your receipt for the same, pay them out by order of the Worshipful Master with the consent of the Lodge, and render a just and true account of the same. I trust your regard for your own honor and for that of the Fraternity will prompt you to the faithful discharge of the duties of your office.”

THE SECRETARY.

“Brother ——, you have been appointed (or elected) Secretary of this Lodge, and are now invested with the jewel of your office.

“It is your duty to keep accurate minutes of the transactions of the Lodge, write all things proper to be written, receive all moneys due the Lodge, and pay them to the Treasurer, taking his receipt for the same, keep your books and papers open for inspection by the proper authorities, and transmit a copy to the Grand Lodge when required. Your good inclination to Masonry and to this Lodge, I hope, will induce you to discharge the duties of your office with fidelity, and by so doing you will merit the esteem and approbation of your brethren.”

At the annual installation of the officers of a Lodge, the installing officer at this point will request the Master to announce the names of the appointed officers.

The Marshal then severally presents them.

THE CHAPLAIN.

“Brother ———, you have been appointed Chaplain of this Lodge, and are now invested with the jewel of your office.

“It is your duty to aid us in those solemn services which we should constantly render to our infinite Creator; and which, when offered through one whose holy profession is ‘to point to heaven and lead the way,’ may, by refining our souls, strengthening our virtues, and purifying our minds, prepare us for admission into the society of those above, to share with them that happiness which is unspeakable and everlasting.”

THE SENIOR AND JUNIOR DEACONS.

“Brother ———, you have been appointed Senior Deacon of this Lodge, and are now invested with the jewel of your office.

“It will be your duty to attend to all alarms at the inner door, receive and conduct all candidates for initiation or advancement, introduce and accommodate visiting brethren, carry orders from the Worshipful Master in the East to the Senior Warden in the West, and elsewhere about the Lodge as he may direct."

"Brother ———, you have been appointed Junior Deacon of this Lodge, and are now invested with the jewel of your office.

"It will be your duty to attend to all alarms at the outer door, carry messages from the Senior Warden in the West to the Junior Warden in the South, and elsewhere about the Lodge as directed; also to see that the Lodge is duly tyled."

"Brethren—These rods, as pertaining to your office, are now intrusted to your care, and are to be borne in the performance of every official duty."

MASTERS OF CEREMONIES.

"Brothers ——— and ———, you have been appointed Masters of Ceremonies of this Lodge, and are now invested with the jewels of your office.

"The positions to which you are assigned in the Lodge are very important. It will be your duty to see that all candidates pay the necessary fees before initiation, and to require them to give full and free assent to the prescribed interrogatories before they are admitted into the Lodge. Your conduct should be courteous and dignified, without levity or aught else that may tend to divert the minds of the candidates from the solemnity of the important ceremonies in which they are to take part. Remember that in your company they will receive some of their first impressions of our Institution. Therefore, let prudence and discretion guide you in the performance of your duties."

THE STEWARDS.

"Brothers ——— and ———, you have been appointed Stewards of this Lodge, and are now invested with the jewels of your office.

"It will be your duty to assist the Deacons and other officers in performing their respective duties, and to make all necessary arrangements for the convenience of the brethren when assembled. Your regular and early attendance will afford the best proof of your zeal and attachment to the Lodge."

THE TYLER.

"Brother ———, you have been appointed Tyler of this Lodge, and are now invested with the jewel and the implement of your office.

"As the sword is placed in the hands of the Tyler to enable him effectually to guard the Lodge against the approach of cowans and eavesdroppers, and suffer none to pass or repass except such as are duly qualified, and by permission of the Worshipful Master; so it should morally serve as a constant admonition to us to set a guard over our thoughts, a watch at our lips, and a sentinel over our actions ; thereby preventing the approach of every unworthy thought or deed, and preserving consciences void of offense towards God and towards man."

CHARGE AT INSTALLATION.

"WORSHIPFUL MASTER—The superintendence and government of the brethren who compose this Lodge having been committed to your care, you cannot be insensible of the obligations which devolve on you as their head, nor of your responsibility for the faithful discharge of the important duties annexed to your position.

"The honor, reputation, and usefulness of this Lodge will materially depend upon the skill and assiduity with which you manage its concerns ; while the happiness of its members will be generally promoted in proportion to the zeal and ability with which you propagate the genuine principles of our Institution.

"As a pattern for imitation, consider the great luminary of nature, which, rising in the east, regularly diffuses light and luster to all within the circle. In like manner, it is your province to spread and communicate light and instruction to the brethren of your Lodge. Forcibly impress upon them the dignity and high importance of Masonry, and seriously admonish them never to disgrace it. Charge them to practice out of the Lodge those duties which they have been taught in it ; and by amiable, discreet and virtuous conduct, to convince mankind of the goodness of the Institution ; so that when a person is said to be a member of it, the world may know that he is one to whom the burdened heart may pour out its sorrows, to whom distress may prefer its suit, whose hand is guided by justice, and whose heart is expanded by benevolence.

“ In short, by a diligent observance of the By-Laws of the Lodge, the Constitutions of Freemasonry, and above all, the Holy Scriptures, which are given as the rule and guide for your faith and practice, you will be enabled to acquit yourself with honor and lay up a crown of rejoicing, which shall continue when time shall be no more.”

“ BROTHERS SENIOR AND JUNIOR WARDENS : You are too well acquainted with the principles of Freemasonry to warrant the suspicion that you will be found wanting in the discharge of your respective duties. Suffice it to say, that what you have seen praiseworthy in others you should carefully imitate ; and what in them may have appeared defective, you should in yourselves amend. You should be examples of good order and regularity ; for it is only by a due regard to the laws, in your own conduct, that you can expect obedience to them from others. You are assiduously to assist the Master in the discharge of his trust ; diffusing light and imparting knowledge to all whom he shall place under your care. In the absence of the Master, you will succeed to higher duties. Your acquirements must, therefore, be such that the Craft may never suffer for the want of proper instruction. From the spirit which you have hitherto evinced, I entertain no doubt that your future conduct will be such as to merit the approbation of your brethren, and elicit the testimony of a good conscience.”

The members of the Lodge being called up, the Grand Master, (or installing officer) continues as follows :

“Brethren of —— Lodge, such is the nature of our Constitution, that as some of us must of necessity rule and teach, so others must, of course, learn to submit and obey. Humility in both is an essential duty. The officers who are to govern your Lodge are sufficiently conversant with the rules of propriety and the laws of our Institution, to avoid exceeding the powers with which they are intrusted ; and you are of too generous disposition to envy their preferment. I therefore trust that you will have but one aim—to please each other, and unite in the grand design of being happy and communicating happiness.

“Finally, my brethren, as this Lodge has been formed and perfected in so much unanimity and concord, so may it long continue. May you long enjoy every satisfaction and delight which disinterested friendship can afford. May kindness and brotherly affection distinguish your conduct as men and as Masons. Within your peaceful walls may your children’s children celebrate, with joy and gratitude, the annual recurrence of this auspicious solemnity ; and may the tenets of our profession be transmitted through this Lodge, pure and unimpaired, from generation to generation.”

The Grand Marshal or Marshal then makes proclamation from the South, West and East in the following manner :

* “In the name and by the authority of the Grand Lodge of the Most Ancient and Honorable Society of Free and Accepted Masons of the

* For Annual Installations the brother acting as Marshal shall use the following form :

“In the name and by the authority of the Grand Lodge of the Most Ancient and Honorable Society of Free and Accepted Masons of the State of New Jersey, I proclaim the officers of —— Lodge, No. ——, duly installed and in their proper stations and places.”

State of New Jersey, I now proclaim —— Lodge, No. ——, to be duly constituted and its officers regularly installed, and in their proper stations and places.”

The grand honors should be given at each station.

Instrumental or vocal music may then be rendered, after which the Grand Chaplain makes the concluding prayer in the following or some other suitable form :

“ Almighty Father, Author of life, we praise thee for that wise providence which makes mutual dependence among men a source of security and happiness, and prompts them to associate themselves together in good works which, when directed by thee, are beneficial to them and promotive of thy glory. We thank thee, therefore, for every institution founded for the purpose of social or moral elevation, and for the exercise of human charity and benevolence, but especially for the great Brotherhood of Freemasons, as members of which we are now assembled before thee. Thou hast been our aid and protector in the important work we have just completed. Sanctify it, therefore, to the accomplishment of thy holy will.
Strengthen and sustain the hearts and the hands of all who gather here in thy name. Enlist them in thy service. May all their offerings be acceptable unto thee. We thank thee that the ceremonies of this occasion afford stronger inducements, and lay us under renewed obligations to the practice of virtue and morality, and to a more zealous and faithful observance of thy holy precepts. Help us all to walk in the light of thy law and to do thy commandments. Inspire us with a greater love for thee and for each other, and with a more steadfast resolution to persevere in every virtuous pursuit, and while the solemnities of this hour increase our veneration for the ancient Fraternity which we honor and love, may they more strongly tend to the refinement of our souls, and to the turning of our desires to Thee in whom is the fullness of joy forever. Amen."

Response—So mote it be.

The Grand Lodge may then be closed in the Lodge room (if the ceremonies have not been public), or may return to the room where it first assembled, and there close. In the latter case, the procession is formed on the north side of the Lodge, just as it was previous to opening to the right and left for the Grand Master to pass through.

The Grand Marshal then orders the procession to open to the right and left, and the Grand Master assumes his place in the rear.

The procession then makes three circuits of the Lodge room, during which the vessels of corn, wine and oil, the burning tapers, etc., are taken up in the same order in which they were deposited, except that the Book of Constitutions is to be taken up at once by the one bearing it, who assumes his proper place in line. The Great Lights are taken up after the last circuit.

After the departure of the Grand Lodge in the last case, or after its closing in the other case, the Lodge may be opened by its officers, transact any proper business, and in due time be closed.

LAYING FOUNDATION STONES OF PUBLIC STRUCTURES.

This ceremony is to be conducted by the Grand Master or the Deputy Grand Master. In the absence of both, the Grand Master is to select a present or Past Grand Lodge officer for the duty in hand.

At the time appointed, the Grand Lodge is convened in some suitable place. The Grand Lodge is opened by the Grand Master, and the rules for regulating the procession to and from the place where the ceremony is to be performed are read by the Grand Secretary.

When the Grand Master has been informed that the procession is formed, he directs the Grand Marshal to put it in motion, which is done in the following order :

ORDER OF PROCESSION.

Band of Music.

Tyler of the youngest Lodge, with a drawn sword.

Stewards, with white rods.

Masters of Ceremonies, with white rods.

Master Masons.

Treasurer and Secretary.

Senior and Junior Wardens.

Past Masters.

Master of the Lodge.

[All other Lodges follow in the same order, according to seniority, but in all cases visiting Lodges should be given an honorable place in the procession, near the rear.]

Then follows a band of music preceding

THE GRAND LODGE.

Grand Tyler, with drawn sword.

Grand Stewards, with white rods.

Principal Architect, with some implements of his office.

Grand Pursuivant, with sword.

Grand Organist.

District Deputy Grand Masters.

Grand Instructor; Grand Chaplain.

Deputy Grand Secretary.

Grand Secretary ; Grand Treasurer.

The Bible, Square and Compasses, carried by a Past Master, and supported by two Stewards, with rods.

Past Grand Officers.

Junior Grand Warden,

carrying a silver vessel of oil.

Senior Grand Warden,

carrying a silver vessel of wine.

Deputy Grand Master,

carrying a golden vessel of corn (wheat).

A venerable Past Master, bearing the Book of Constitutions.

The Grand Master,

supported by the Senior and Junior Grand Deacons, with black rods.

Grand Sword Bearer.

In this order the procession moves to the place of deposit in the contemplated structure. Upon arriving there the procession halts and opens ranks, when the Grand Marshal conducts the Grand Master, who is preceded by the Grand Sword Bearer, through the lines to the station assigned him on the platform. The Grand Officers and brethren follow. Ample space and accommodations should be made upon the platform for the Chief Magistrate and civil officers, and others who have been invited to attend.

The Grand Master calls to order and announces the business of the occasion, and the necessary preparations are made for laying the stone.

An ode to Masonry is then sung.

The Grand Chaplain then delivers an appropriate, or the following

PRAYER.

“Our Father, who art in heaven, we reverently look to thee at this time for thy blessing, imploring on this, and all our laudable undertakings, thy favor, protection, and aid, without which all the efforts of man are vain and fruitless. May we be endowed with wisdom to direct us in all our doings, and may we ever walk within the compass of righteousness and square our actions by the dictates of truth and virtue, and by the examples of the wise and good. And when we shall have accomplished our day, do thou receive us in that house not made with hands, eternal in the heavens. Amen!”

Response—So mote it be.

The Grand Master then directs the Grand Treasurer to deposit under the stone such coins and medals, Masonic documents, and other articles as may be of interest.

An appropriate ode is sung while the stone is being let down into its place.

The Principal Architect then presents the working tools to the Grand Master, who hands the Square to the Deputy Grand Master, the Level to the Senior Grand Warden, and the Plumb to the Junior Grand Warden, and then says :

Grand Master. “ R. W. Deputy Grand Master, apply the Square to that portion of the foundation stone that needs to be proved, and make report.”

The Deputy applies the Square to the stone and says :

“ Most Worshipful Grand Master, I find the stone to be square.”

G. M. “ R. W. Senior Grand Warden, apply the Level to that portion of the foundation stone that needs to be proved, and make report.”

The order is complied with.

S. G. W. “ Most Worshipful Grand Master, I find the stone to be level.”

G. M. “ R. W. Junior Grand Warden, apply the Plumb to that portion of the foundation stone that needs to be proved, and make report.”

This order is complied with.

J. G. W. “ Most Worshipful Grand Master, I find the stone to be plumb.”

The Senior and Junior Grand Deacons then go to the corner-stone, the former carrying the gavel and the latter the trowel.

The Grand Master, preceded by the Grand Marshal and the Grand Sword Bearer, then proceeds to the corner-stone, takes the trowel from the Junior Grand Deacon, and having spread the cement, the covering stone is fixed in its place by the workmen. He then takes the gavel from the Senior Grand Deacon, strikes the corner-stone three times therewith and returns to his station ; the other Grand Officers return to their places. The Grand Master then says :

G. M. “ This corner-stone, having been tested by the Square, Level and Plumb, I find that the Craftsmen have skillfully and faithfully performed their duty, and I declare the stone to be well formed, true and trusty, and correctly laid, according to the rules of our ancient Craft.”

The Grand Master then directs the Corn, Wine and Oil to be presented.

The Deputy Grand Master then presents to the Grand Master the vessel of corn.

G. M. “ This Corn is an emblem of plenty. (Pours out the corn.) May the blessings of bounteous Heaven be showered upon us, and upon all benevolent undertakings, and may our hearts overflow with gratitude to the Giver of every good and perfect gift, for the manifold blessings and comforts which we enjoy.”

Response—So mote it be.

The Senior Grand Warden then presents the vessel of wine.

G. M. “This Wine is an emblem of prosperity and gladness. (Pours out the wine.) May the Great Ruler of the universe bless and prosper our National, State and City governments; direct, strengthen, and cheer our rulers in the discharge of their duties, and may all nations be united in a bond of friendship and brotherly love that shall endure through all time.”

Response—So mote it be.

The Junior Grand Warden then presents the vessel of oil.

G. M. “This Oil is an emblem of joy and peace. (Pours out the oil.) May its blessings abide with us continually, and may the Grand Master of heaven and earth shelter and protect the widow and orphan, shield and defend them from the trials and vicissitudes of the world, and so bestow his mercy upon the bereaved, the afflicted and the sorrowing, that they may know sorrowing and trouble no more.”

Response—So mote it be.

The Grand Master, standing in front of all and extending his hands, makes the following

INVOCATION.

“May the all-bounteous Author of nature bless the inhabitants of this place with an abundance of the necessities, conveniences, and comforts of life ; prosper the erection and completion of this building ; protect the workmen against every accident ; long preserve this structure from decay ; and grant to us all a supply of the corn of nourishment, the wine of refreshment, and the oil of joy. Amen.”

Response—So mote it be.

The public grand honors are then given under the direction of the Grand Marshal.

The Grand Master then delivers to the Architect the implements of architecture, saying :

“WORTHY SIR (OR BROTHER) : Having thus, as Grand Master of Masons, laid the foundation stone of this structure, I now deliver these implements of your profession into your hands, intrusting you with the superintendence and direction of the work, having full confidence in your skill and capacity to conduct and complete the same.”

An appropriate anthem is sung.

The Grand Master, or some brother whom he may select, then delivers an address.

A benediction is then pronounced by the Grand Chaplain, after which the Grand Lodge is escorted to its hall, where it is closed with the usual formalities.

DEDICATION OF MASONIC HALLS.

At the time appointed for the ceremony of dedication, the Grand Master and his officers, accompanied by members of the Grand Lodge, meet in a room convenient to the hall which is to be dedicated. The Grand Lodge is then opened in ample form.

The Grand Master directs the Grand Marshal to form the procession, which moves in the following order, viz. :

THE GRAND LODGE.

Grand Tyler, with drawn sword.

Grand Stewards, with white rods.

Grand Pursuivant, with sword.

Grand Organist.

District Deputy Grand Masters.

Grand Instructor. Grand Chaplain.

Deputy Grand Secretary.

Grand Secretary. Grand Treasurer.

A Past Master, bearing a burning taper.

A Past Master, bearing the Holy Writings, Square and Compasses.

Two Past Masters, bearing burning tapers.

Past Grand Wardens.

Past Deputy Grand Masters.

Past Grand Masters.

Two Past Masters, bearing the Globes.

GRAND MARSHAL.

Junior Grand Warden, bearing a silver vessel of oil.
Senior Grand Warden, bearing a silver vessel of wine.
Deputy Grand Master, bearing a golden vessel of corn.
The Grand Master,
supported by the Senior and Junior Grand Deacons, with black rods.
Grand Sword Bearer.

After entering the Lodge room the procession halts. The grand honors are then given by the Lodge. The Bible and Book of Constitutions are deposited on the pedestal provided for them, immediately in front of the Grand Master, and the procession moves three times around the hall, commencing at the East, during which solemn music should be performed.

Upon the first circuit of the hall, one of the Past Masters deposits his burning taper and the Junior Grand Warden deposits his vessel of oil, at the south of the Lodge, which has been previously placed between the altar and the East, immediately in front of the altar.*

Upon the second circuit, another of the Past Masters deposits his burning taper, and the Senior Grand Warden deposits his vessel of wine at the west of the Lodge.

Upon the third circuit, the other Past Master deposits his burning taper, and the Deputy Grand Master deposits his vessel of corn, at the east of the Lodge, and the Past Masters place the globes at the right and left, i.e., the north and south of the Lodge.

* What is spoken of here as the "Lodge," is a small oblong box or casket, and represents the Masonic Lodge (or Hall of the Lodge) about to be dedicated. It must wrapped in fine linen and furnished besides with a loose linen cover. The whole is placed in the center of a table, also covered with linen to the floor. The table should be large enough to hold the consecrating vessels, the tapers and the globes.

When upon the third circuit, the right of the procession reaches the East, the brethren open to the right and left, and the Grand Officers and brethren composing the procession pass through.

The Grand Master then takes the East, and the other Grand Officers and the brethren composing the procession repair to the places previously prepared for their reception, upon the floor in front of the East, on the right and left.

These arrangements being made, an appropriate ode is sung.

The Master of the Lodge to which the hall to be dedicated belongs, then rises, and approaching the East, addresses the Grand Master as follows :

“MOST WORSHIPFUL GRAND MASTER: The brethren of —— Lodge, being animated with a desire to promote the honor and interest of Masonry have erected (or provided themselves with) this Masonic Hall, which they have furnished for their accommodation. They desire that it be examined by the Grand Lodge, and if it meet their approbation, that it be solemnly dedicated to Masonic purposes, agreeably to ancient form.”

* The Architect, or a brother who has had the management of the structure, then addresses the Grand Master as follows :

* If the Lodge having the ceremony in charge had not been engaged in erecting the building in which the Hall is situated, then omit all that follows until the preparations are made for dedication, commencing “An ode in honor of Masonry is sung.”

“MOST WORSHIPFUL GRAND MASTER : Having been intrusted with the superintendence and management of the workmen employed in the construction of this edifice, and having, according to the best of my ability, accomplished the task assigned to me, I now return my thanks for the honor of this appointment, and beg leave to surrender the implements which were committed to my care when the foundation of this fabric was laid, humbly hoping that the results attained will be found to accord with the designs laid down upon the trestle-board for my guidance, and will merit your approbation, and that of the Grand Lodge.”

To which the Grand Master replies as follows :

“BROTHER ARCHITECT : The skill and fidelity displayed in the execution of the trust reposed in you at the commencement of this undertaking, have secured the entire approbation of the Grand Lodge ; and they sincerely pray that this edifice may continue a lasting monument of the taste, spirit, and liberality of its founders.”

An ode in honor of Masonry is sung.

The Deputy Grand Master then rises and says :

“MOST WORSHIPFUL GRAND MASTER : The hall in which we are now assembled, and the plan upon which it has been constructed, having met with your approbation, it is the desire of the brethren that it be now dedicated, according to ancient form and usage."

The Grand Master then orders the Grand Stewards to uncover the Lodge.

Instrumental music may then be rendered.

The procession is then reformed in the same order as before, and proceeds three times around the hall, the following ode being sung during the circumambulation.

ODE.

TUNE—Old Hundred.

Great Architect of heaven and earth,
To whom all nature owes its birth ;
At thy command creation stood
Complete in form—thy work is good.

(Dedication to Freemasonry.)

Upon the first circuit of the hall, the Deputy Grand Master takes up the vessel of corn.

When the Grand Master reaches the East upon the first circuit of the hall, the procession halts, the music ceases, and the Grand Chaplain makes the following consecration

PRAYER.

"Almighty and most Merciful Father, Creator of all things, and Governor of all thou hast made, mercifully look upon thy servants now assembled in thy name and in thy presence. We beseech thee to bless and prosper the work of our hands, which we desire at this time to dedicate and devote to thy service. May all the proper works of our Institution that may be done in this house be such as thy wisdom may approve and thy goodness promote. Enable us to perform every duty with faithfulness and honor; to fulfill our obligations to thee, and towards each other as fathers, husbands, friends, and brothers, as worthy men, so as to distinguish and exalt our profession as Masons. And while, through thy rich bounty, our cups overflow with plenty, and corn, wine, and oil delight and cheer our boards, may our full hearts never be wanting in gratitude, nor our voices in praise and thanksgiving to thee. From thee we have received the heart to feel, the hand to labor, the eye to behold, the ear to hear, and the tongue to proclaim. Teach us then, to delight in them, and to improve them, as thy blessing. May we be ever ready to relieve the distresses of our fellow-creatures who need our assistance. May love dwell in our hearts and truth upon our lips, and may the everlasting glory of God finally rest upon us. Amen."

Response—So mote it be.

The Deputy Grand Master then presents the vessel of corn to the Grand Master, saying :

“MOST WORSHIPFUL GRAND MASTER: In the dedication of Masonic halls, it has been of immemorial custom to pour corn upon the Lodge, as an emblem of nourishment. I therefore present to you this corn, to be employed by you according to ancient usage.”

The Grand Master, after striking thrice with his gavel, pours out the corn upon the Lodge, saying :

“In the name of the great JEHOVAH, to whom be all honor and glory, I do solemnly dedicate this hall to FREEMASONRY.”

The grand honors are then given under the direction of the Grand Marshal.

A second circuit is made around the Lodge Room, during which the Senior Grand Warden takes up the vessel of wine.

Lord, canst Thou deign to own and bless
This humble dome, this sacred place ?
O let thy Spirit's presence shine
Within these walls—this house of thine.

(Dedication to Virtue.)

When the Grand Master has reached the East, the procession halts, and the Senior Grand Warden presents the vessel of wine to the Grand Master, saying :

“ MOST WORSHIPFUL GRAND MASTER : Wine, the emblem of refreshment, having been used by our ancient brethren in the dedication and consecration of their Lodges, I therefore present to you this wine, to be used on the present occasion, according to ancient Masonic form.”

The Grand Master then pours out the wine upon the Lodge, saying :

“ In the name of the HOLY SAINTS JOHN, I solemnly dedicate this hall to VIRTUE.”

The grand honors are again given.

A third circuit is then made around the Lodge Room, during which the Junior Grand Warden takes up the vessel of oil.

Lord, here the wants of all supply,
And fit our souls to dwell on high ;
From service in this humble place,
Raise us to praise thee, face to face.

(Dedication to Universal Benevolence.)

When the Grand Master arrives at the East, the procession halts, and the Junior Grand Warden presents the vessel of oil to the Grand Master, saying :

“ MOST WORSHIPFUL GRAND MASTER : I present to you, to be used according to ancient custom, this oil, as an emblem of that joy which should animate every bosom upon the completion of every important undertaking.”

The Grand Master then pours out the oil upon the Lodge, saying :

“ In the name of the whole FRATERNITY, I solemnly dedicate this hall to UNIVERSAL BENEVOLENCE.”

The grand honors are again given.

The Grand Master, then standing before the Lodge, with his arms outstretched, makes the following

INVOCATION.

“ May the Lord, the Giver of every good and perfect gift, bless the brethren here assembled in all their lawful undertakings, and grant to each one of them, in needful supply, the corn of nourishment, the wine of refreshment, and the oil of joy.”

Response—So mote it be.

The Grand Marshal, by order of the Grand Master, then makes proclamation in the South, West and East, as follows :

“ In the name and by the authority of the Grand Lodge of the Most Ancient and Honorable Society of Free and Accepted Masons of the State of New Jersey, I proclaim this hall dedicated to the purpose of Freemasonry in AMPLE FORM.”

After the Lodge has been covered with its linen covering, the Grand Officers and other brethren composing the procession, repair to their places.

An oration may then be delivered, to be followed by an

ODE.

After which the Grand Lodge forms in procession as before, and while instrumental music is being rendered, takes up the vessels and implements in the order in which they were deposited, and returns to the room where it was opened, and is closed in form.

INSTALLATION OF THE OFFICERS OF THE GRAND LODGE.

The chair being taken by the Grand Master of the preceding year, or by some Past Grand Master whom he may select, the Grand Secretary shall read the names of the officers who have been elected or appointed to serve for the ensuing year.

The Grand Master elect, preceded by the Grand Marshal, is then conducted by the Senior and Junior Grand Deacons to the front of the pedestal, and the Grand Marshal says to the presiding Grand Officer :

“ MOST WORSHIPFUL GRAND MASTER : I present to you Brother — —, whom the members of this Grand Lodge have elected to preside over the Craft for the ensuing Masonic year, and who now declares himself ready for installation.”

The presiding Grand Officer rises, and calls up the Grand Lodge. Then is offered by the Grand Chaplain the following, or some suitable

PRAYER.

“ Almighty and Everlasting God, vouchsafe thine aid to this our solemn rite, and grant that thy servant who is now about to be numbered among the rulers of the Craft, may be endowed with wisdom to comprehend, judgment to define, and firmness to enforce obedience to thy law. Sanctify him with thy grace, strengthen him with thy power, and enrich his mind with genuine knowledge, that he may be enabled to enlighten his brethren and fulfill the duties of the station to which he has been called, with wisdom and discretion and with acceptance to Thee, and to thy name be the glory and honor forever. Amen."

Response—So mote it be.

The presiding Grand Officer then delivers the following

CHARGE TO THE GRAND MASTER.

"Let me congratulate you, Most Worshipful Grand Master, on the honor of being raised to the high station of presiding over all the Lodges in the State of New Jersey.

"The office of Grand Master is of great antiquity and honor, and its prerogatives and duties are well defined by ancient usage and precedent. To these are added the important trust of maintaining the laws and regulations made by the Grand Lodge for the government of the Craft. This high and responsible office should not fail to receive your utmost care and diligent service. Besides the numerous duties which will claim your official and personal attention is that of seeing that the executive officers under you and the various committees perform the parts assigned to them. The interests of the Craft, for weal or woe, are placed in your hands during your term of office. The very consciousness of the possession of so great a power should ever make a generous mind cautious and gentle in its exercise. To rule has been the lot of many, and requires neither strength of intellect nor soundness of judgment ; to rule well has been the fortune of but few, and may well be the object of an honorable ambition. May the Father of light, of life, and of love invest you with his choicest gifts ; may heavenly wisdom illumine your mind ; may heavenly power give strength to your endeavors ; may heavenly goodness fill and enlarge your breast ; and late, very late in life, after the close of a career of usefulness and honor, may you be borne from the fading honors of this transitory existence to the mansions prepared for the faithful in another and better world.

“ Brethren of the Grand Lodge : This auspicious event is well worthy of your undivided interest and attention. It is by your suffrages that our brother, the Most Worshipful Grand Master, has been raised to his eminent position among the rulers of the Craft. Let no man, therefore, envy him his preferment, but seek only how best to serve him with freedom, fervency and zeal. Let our hearts go out towards him in his arduous work, and by word and deed let us cause him to feel that he can look with confidence to his brethren of the mystic tie for help, and sympathy, and love."

The Grand Marshal is then directed to conduct the Most Worshipful Brother to the East, where he takes position to the left of the Installing Officer.

The Grand Lodge is then called up, when the Installing Officer says :

"MOST WORSHIPFUL BROTHER : It is with great pleasure that I invest you with the jewel of your office, the symbolism of which will now have a new and striking significance to you. (Presents the jewel.)

"I also present you with this gavel, as the potent emblem of Masonic power. I trust that in your hands its mandates will always be heeded, for it should never sound in vain." (Presents the gavel.)

"I now surrender to you this seat of authority (places him in the chair), and render you this, the first act of homage to you as Grand Master."

The Grand Master having been covered on taking the chair, the Installing Officer uncovers and bows.

Installing Officer.—"I now hail, salute and proclaim you Grand Master of Masons of the State of New Jersey !

“ Brethren, behold your Grand Master !

“ Grand Master, behold your brethren ! ”

The Grand Marshal then leads the brethren in giving the grand honors.

Then shall follow an appropriate

ODE.

The remaining Grand Officers are introduced in like manner by the Grand Marshal, and receive their appropriate charges as follows :

DEPUTY GRAND MASTER.

“ RIGHT WORSHIPFUL BROTHER : The station to which you have been called by the suffrages of your brethren is one of great dignity and importance. In the absence of the Grand Master you are to exercise his prerogatives in presiding over the Craft ; in his presence you are to assist him with your counsel and co-operation. But while your powers and privileges are thus extensive, remember that they carry with them a heavy share of responsibility. The honor that has been conferred upon you, and the trust that has been reposed in you, demand a corresponding fidelity and attachment to the interests of those to whose kindness and confidence you are indebted for your official elevation. Let the Book of Constitutions be your constant study, that you may be better enabled to preserve inviolate the laws and ancient landmarks of our Institution, and that you may be ever ready to exercise the functions of that more exalted office to which you may be called."

The Grand Marshal then conducts the Right Worshipful Brother to the East, when the Installing Officer invests him with the jewel of his office, and says :

"Receive the jewel of your office, and sit at our right hand, to aid us with your counsel."

SENIOR GRAND WARDEN.

"RIGHT WORSHIPFUL BROTHER: By the suffrages of your brethren you have been elected Senior Grand Warden, and we now invest you with the jewel of your office.

"Your regular attendance at the communications of the Grand Lodge is essentially necessary. In the absence of the Grand Master and his Deputy you are to govern the Craft; in their presence you are to strengthen and support the authority of your superior.

"We firmly rely on your knowledge of Masonry and your attachment to our Institution for the faithful discharge of the duties of this important trust. Look well to the West!"

JUNIOR GRAND WARDEN.

“RIGHT WORSHIPFUL BROTHER: By the suffrages of your brethren you have been elected Junior Grand Warden, and we now invest you with the jewel of your office.

“Your regular and punctual attendance at the communications of the Grand Lodge is required. In the absence of your superior officers you are to govern the Craft; in their presence you will aid them in their labors. We have no doubt that you will faithfully execute the duties incumbent on you in your present position. Look well to the South!”

GRAND TREASURER.

“RIGHT WORSHIPFUL BROTHER: You have been elected to the responsible office of Grand Treasurer, and we now invest you with the jewel of your office.

“It is your duty to receive all moneys due the Grand Lodge, to make proper entries of the same, and pay them out by order of the Grand Master, and with the approval of the Grand Lodge. The office to which you have been elected involves an important trust. The choice of your brethren is an evidence of the high opinion they entertain of your fidelity and discretion. We do not doubt that your regard for the Fraternity will prompt you to the faithful discharge of your duties.”

GRAND SECRETARY.

“RIGHT WORSHIPFUL BROTHER: You have been elected to the important office of Grand Secretary, and we now invest you with the jewel of your office.

“It is your duty to observe the proceedings of the Grand Lodge, and to make a fair record of all things proper to be written. You are also the official organ of the Grand Lodge, and in that capacity will conduct its correspondence, and act as the medium of intercourse between the Fraternity and their Grand Master. In the discharge of these important duties let your conduct be marked by that promptitude and discretion which will at once reflect credit upon yourself and honor upon the body you represent.”

DEPUTY GRAND SECRETARY.

“RIGHT WORSHIPFUL BROTHER: You have been elected to the office of Deputy Grand Secretary, and we now invest you with the jewel of your office.

“It is your duty to assist the Grand Secretary in the administration of his office by performing such of his functions as he may impose upon you.

“In his absence you are to fill his place. The good of the Craft requires that you should bring to the discharge of these duties intelligence, promptness and exactness."

GRAND CHAPLAIN.

"WORSHIPFUL BROTHER: The position of Grand Chaplain has been intrusted to your care, and we now invest you with the jewel of your office.

"In the discharge of your duties you will be required to lead the devotional exercises of our communications, and to perform the sacred functions of your holy calling at our public ceremonies. Though Masonry is not Religion, it is emphatically Religion's handmaid, and we are sure that in ministering at its altar, the services you may perform will lose nothing of their vital influence because they are rendered in that spirit of universal tolerance which distinguishes our Institution. The doctrines of morality and virtue, which you are accustomed to inculcate as the minister of God, will form the appropriate lessons you are expected to communicate to your brethren in the Lodge. The profession you have chosen is the best guaranty that you will faithfully discharge the duties of your present appointment."

GRAND INSTRUCTOR.

"RIGHT WORSHIPFUL BROTHER: You have been appointed Grand Instructor of this jurisdiction, and we now invest you with the jewel of your office.

“It is incumbent upon you to instruct the Craft in the performance of their Lodge duties ; to communicate light to the uninformed ; to preserve our ritual and traditions in the memory of the Fraternity ; to see that the ancient landmarks of the Institution are not removed by unskillful hands ; and by your instruction to the subordinate Lodges, to illustrate the genius and vindicate the principles of our Institution. Let it be your object to inculcate upon the members of this time-honored society a faithful regard for its obligations, and to impress the world at large with a favorable opinion of its design and tendency.”

GRAND DEACONS.

“WORSHIPFUL BROTHERS: You have been appointed the Grand Deacons of this Grand Lodge, and we now invest you with the jewels of your office.

“It is your province to attend upon the Grand Master and the Grand Wardens, and to act as their aids in the active duties of the Grand Lodge. Let vigilance and attention actuate you in the discharge of the duties of your office.”

GRAND MARSHAL.

“WORSHIPFUL BROTHER : You have been appointed Grand Marshal, and we now invest you with the jewel of your office and present you with this baton as the ensign of your authority.

“It is your duty to make all necessary proclamations ; to arrange all processions of the Grand Lodge, and to preserve order according to the forms prescribed. Skill and precision are essentially necessary to the faithful discharge of these duties.”

GRAND STEWARDS.

“WORSHIPFUL BROTHERS : You have been appointed Grand Stewards, and we now invest you with the jewels of your office, and place in your hands these white rods as pertaining to your office.

“To you is intrusted the duty of providing, under the direction of the Grand Master, for the comfort and convenience of the brethren when assembled in Grand Lodge. You are also to assist the Grand Marshal in making the necessary arrangements for Masonic ceremonies, and on such occasions are to provide accommodations for such of the Grand Officers as may attend.”

GRAND SWORD BEARER.

“WORSHIPFUL BROTHER : You have been appointed Grand Sword Bearer, and we now invest you with the jewel of your office.

“It will be your duty to carry the Grand Sword of State in all public processions and ceremonies, and your place on such occasions is near the person of the Grand Master.”

GRAND PURSUIVANT.

“WORSHIPFUL BROTHER: You have been appointed Grand Pursuivant, and we now invest you with the jewel of your office, and intrust this sword to your keeping.

“Your place is near the door, where you will receive all reports from the Grand Tyler. You are to announce the names and titles of those who desire admittance. You will see that none enter without wearing their appropriate Masonic clothing, and you will perform such other duties as appertain to your office. Your early and punctual attendance at all communications of the Grand Lodge is essentially necessary.”

GRAND ORGANIST.

“BROTHER: You have been appointed Grand Organist, and we now invest you with the jewel of your office.

“It will be your duty to conduct the musical exercises of the Grand Lodge, and have the care and control of the music on all stated and emergent occasions.”

GRAND TYLER.

“BROTHER: You have been appointed Tyler of this Grand Lodge, and we now invest you with the jewel of your office, and place this sword in your hand, the more effectually to enable you to guard against the approach of cowans and eavesdroppers, and to suffer none to pass or repass except such as are duly qualified.

“It is your duty to guard the door of the Grand Lodge on the outside; to report to the Grand Pursuivant those who desire to be admitted, and to attend to such other duties as may be required of you by the Grand Lodge. Your punctual attendance is essentially necessary at every communication.”

The Grand Marshal then makes the following proclamation from the South, West, and East, followed at each station by the grand honors :

“In the name and by the authority of the Grand Lodge of the Most Ancient and Honorable Society of Free and Accepted Masons of the State of New Jersey, I proclaim the officers of this Grand Lodge duly installed in ample form and in their proper stations and places.”

MASONIC BURIAL SERVICE

FUNERAL CEREMONIES.

GENERAL DIRECTIONS.*

1. No brother shall be given a Masonic burial unless he has received the Master Mason degree, and is at the time of his death a member of a Lodge. Under certain circumstances a dispensation to bury an unaffiliated brother may be granted by the proper authority.

2. The Master of a Lodge having been notified of the death of a brother, and being satisfied that it is proper to accord the deceased a Masonic burial, shall convene the Lodge and make all necessary arrangements.

3. The brethren who walk in procession should observe, as much as possible, a uniformity in dress. Black clothes are the most suitable, with a badge of mourning around the left arm. White gloves, with aprons worn outside the coat, are required, and a sprig of evergreen is to be worn upon the lapel of the coat.

4. All brethren, while in funeral procession, are under the discipline of the Lodge room. Therefore no brother can join or leave the ranks without express permission of the Master, conveyed through the Marshal.

5. It is recommended that when brethren of other Lodges are invited to attend upon ordinary funeral occasions, the officers of such Lodges should refrain from wearing their collars and jewels of office, leaving that distinction to the Lodge having the service in charge.

* These directions are to be read to the brethren after the Lodge is opened.

No brother should be distinguished by a jewel unless he is an officer of one of the Lodges in attendance.

For processions of magnitude, separate Lodge formations should be maintained with the officers in their proper places. In such case, the place of Lodges in the procession, and other details, will be regulated by the Grand Marshal.

6. Musicians, when present, should precede the Tyler in the procession. All but solemn and appropriate pieces of music are interdicted both before and after the interment.

7. If the Grand Master, Deputy Grand Master, or Grand Wardens attend, they take precedence and preside over and conduct the ceremonies, unless they desire otherwise. Their places in the procession are after the Master of the Lodge. When the Grand Master or Deputy Grand Master is present, the Book of Constitutions is borne before him, a Grand Sword Bearer follows him, and the Grand Deacons attend at his right hand and at his left, with black rods.

If any officers of the Grand Lodge below the rank of Grand Warden attend, they are to walk immediately after the Past Masters, according to their rank.

ORDER OF PROCESSION.

After the Lodge has been opened and the proper duties observed, a procession is formed as follows :

MARSHAL.

Tyler, with drawn sword.

Stewards, with white rods.

Masters of Ceremonies, with white rods.

Master Masons.

Chaplain and other Lodge officers.

Secretary and Treasurer.

Senior and Junior Wardens.

Past Masters.

The Holy Writings, on a cushion covered with black cloth, carried by a venerable brother.

THE MASTER,

supported by Deacons, with black rods.

The procession then moves to the house of the deceased, where it receives the Clergy :

THE BODY,

with an apron lying upon the coffin.

Pall Bearers.

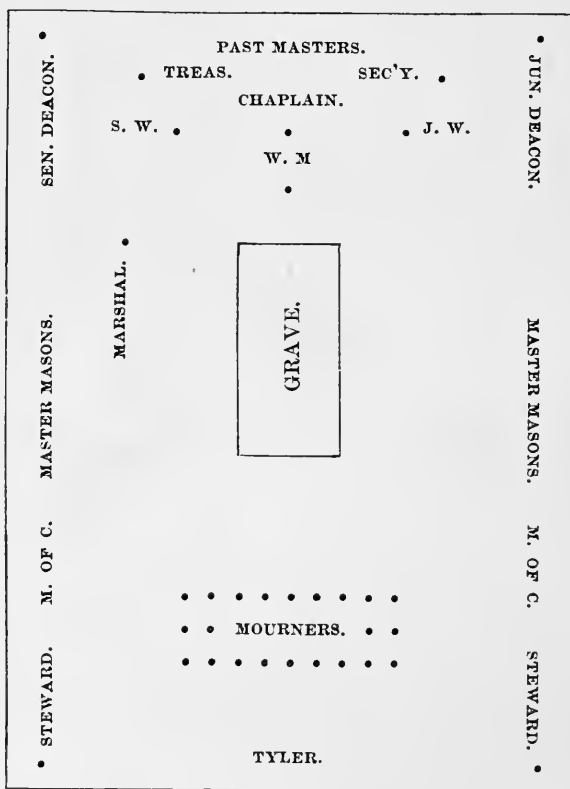

Pall Bearers.

Mourners, and proceeds thence to the church, or to the place of burial.

SERVICE AT THE GRAVE.

When the procession arrives at the place of interment, the brethren open order and are reversed, the body being borne after the Master to the grave. The brethren then form a circle around the grave, the officers being at the head, and the clergy and the mourners at the foot.

After the religious services are concluded, the Masonic service immediately begins by the Chaplain or Master repeating, with the brethren, the following

PRAYER :

“Our Father, who art in heaven, Hallowed be thy Name. Thy kingdom come. Thy will be done on earth, as it is in heaven. Give us this day our daily bread. And forgive us our trespasses, as we forgive those who trespass against us. And lead us not into temptation ; but deliver us from evil. For thine is the kingdom, and the power, and the glory, forever and ever. Amen.”

Response—So mote it be.

* The following exhortation is then given :

EXHORTATION.

“BRETHREN: The solemn notes that betoken the dissolution of this earthly tabernacle have again alarmed our outer door, and another spirit has been summoned to the land where our fathers have gone before us.

“Again we are called to assemble among the habitations of the dead, to behold ‘the narrow house appointed for all living.’ Here, around us, sleep the unnumbered dead. [The gentle breeze fans their verdant covering, they heed it not] ; the sunshine and the storm pass over them, and they are not disturbed ; stones and lettered monuments symbolize the affection of surviving friends, yet no sound proceeds from them, but from the grave comes to us the silent admonition, seek ye the narrow path and the strait gate that lead unto eternal life.

* During the prayers, all of the brethren must be uncovered, but during the exhortation, if the weather be inclement, or the sun’s rays intolerable, the brethren may be covered.

“ We are again called upon to consider the uncertainty of human life ; the immutable certainty of death, and the vanity of all human pursuits. It is passing strange, that notwithstanding the daily mementos of mortality that cross our path ; notwithstanding the funeral bell so often tolls in our ears and the ‘ mournful processions ’ go about our streets, that we do not more seriously consider our approaching fate. We go on from design to design, add hope to hope, and lay out plans for many years, until we are alarmed by the approach of the messenger of Death.

“ What are all the externals of human dignity, the power of wealth, the dreams of ambition, the pride of intellect, or the charms of beauty, when Nature has paid her just debt ? Fix your eyes on this sad scene and view life stripped of its ornaments, and you must be persuaded of the utter emptiness of these delusions. Here the scepter of the prince and the staff of the beggar are laid side by side. In the grave all fallacies are detected, all ranks are leveled, and all distinctions are done away.

“Our present meeting and ceremonies will have been vain and useless if they fail to excite our serious reflection, and to strengthen our resolutions of amendment. Be persuaded, then, my brethren, by the uncertainty of human life, and the unsubstantial nature of all its pursuits, and no longer postpone the all-important concern of preparing for eternity. Let us each improve the present moment, and while time and opportunity offer, prepare for that great change which we know must come to all.

“Let us resolve to maintain with greater assiduity, the dignified character of our profession. May our faith be evinced by a correct moral walk and deportment; may our hope be bright as the glorious mysteries that will be revealed hereafter ; and our charity boundless as the wants of our fellow-creatures. And having faithfully discharged the great duties we owe to God, to our neighbor, and to ourselves, when at last it shall please the Grand Master of the universe to summon us into His eternal presence, may the trestle-board of our whole lives bear such inspection that it may be given unto each of us, through his grace and mercy, to ‘eat of the hidden man, 'and to receive the 'white stone with a new name written,' that will insure perpetual and unspeakable happiness at his right hand."

The Master, then presenting the apron, continues :

"The lamb-skin apron is an emblem of innocence, and the badge of a Mason. It is more ancient than the Golden Fleece or Roman Eagle, and more honorable than the Star and Garter, when worthily worn."

The Master then deposits it in the grave :

"This emblem I now deposit in the grave of our deceased brother. We are here reminded of the universal dominion of Death. The arm of friendship cannot interpose to prevent his coming; the wealth of the world cannot purchase our release; nor will the innocence of youth or the charms of beauty propitiate his purpose."

The Master, holding the evergreen, continues :

"This evergreen is an emblem of our faith in the immortality of the soul. By it we are reminded that we have an immortal part within us which will survive the grave, and which will never, never die; and that though, like our brother whose remains lie before us, we shall soon be clothed in the habiliments of death and deposited in the silent tomb, yet through our belief in the mercy of our Heavenly Father, we may confidently hope that our souls will bloom in eternal spring. This, also, I deposit in the grave."

The brethren then move in procession around the place of interment, and drop the sprig of evergreen into the grave.

The Master then says :

"Brethren, unite with me in giving the grand honors." *

"We cherish his memory here,
We commit his body to the dust,
And commend his spirit to God who gave it."

This form is to be observed by all the brethren, and but once.

* The grand honors for funeral occasions are given by crossing the arms on the breast, the right hand over the heart, the left hand uppermost. "We cherish his memory here." Both hands are then extended toward the ground with the palms up. "We commit his body to the dust." Both hands are then raised as in the act of supplication. "And commend his spirit to God who gave it."

The Master then continues the service in the following words :

“ From time immemorial it has been the custom among the Fraternity of Free and Accepted Masons to accompany the remains of a deceased brother to the place of interment, and there to deposit them with the usual formalities. We have assembled to-day as Masons to offer to the memory of our deceased brother this last tribute of our affection. Unto the grave we now consign his body—* earth to earth ; ashes to ashes ; dust to dust—there to remain till the trumpet shall sound on the Resurrection morn. We can trustfully leave him in the hands of Him who doeth all things well, who is ‘ glorious in holiness, fearful in praises, doing wonders.’

“ The Great Creator having been pleased to remove our brother from the cares and troubles of this transitory existence, thus severing another link from the fraternal chain that binds us together, may we who survive him be more strongly cemented in the ties of union and friendship ; that during the short space allotted us here we may wisely and usefully employ our time, and in the reciprocal intercourse of kind and friendly acts, mutually promote the welfare and happiness of each other.

* At the words “ earth to earth,” etc., three handfuls of earth are to be cast upon the coffin.

“To those of his immediate relatives and friends who are most heart-stricken at the loss they have sustained, we have but little of this world’s consolation to offer. We can only sincerely, deeply and most affectionately sympathize with them in their afflictive bereavement, and remind them that He who ‘tempers the wind to the shorn lamb’ looks down with infinite compassion upon the bereaved in the hour of their desolation, and will fold the arms of his love and protection around those who put their trust in Him.

“Then let us improve this solemn warning, that at last, when the sheeted dead are stirring, when the great white throne is set, we shall hear the voice of the Omniscient Judge, saying : ‘Come, ye blessed of my Father, inherit the kingdom prepared for you from the foundation of the world.’”

The following ode should now be sung :

TUNE—Pleyel's Hymn. 7's.

Solemn strikes the funeral chime,
Notes of our departing time,
As we journey here below,
Through a pilgrimage of woe.

Mortals, now indulge a tear
For mortality is here !
See how wide her trophies wave
O'er the slumbers of the grave!

Here another guest we bring—
Seraphs of celestial wing,
To our funeral altar come,
Waft our friend and brother home.

Lord of all below, above,
Fill our souls with truth and love;
As dissolves our earthly tie,
Take us to thy Lodge on high.

Then shall follow either or both of the following prayers:

PRAYER.

“Almighty and most merciful Father, we adore thee as the God of time and of eternity. As it hath pleased thee to take from the light of our abode one dear to our hearts, we beseech thee to bless and sanctify unto us this dispensation of thy providence. Inspire our hearts with wisdom from on high, that we may glorify thee in all our ways. May we realize that thine all-seeing eye is upon us, and be influenced by the spirit of truth and love to perfect obedience, that we may enjoy thy approbation here below, and when our toils on earth shall have ceased, be raised to the enjoyment of fadeless light and immortal life in that kingdom where faith and hope shall end, and love and joy prevail through eternal ages.

“And thine, O righteous Father, shall be the glory forever. Amen.”

Response—So mote it be.

Or this :

“Almighty God, who hast taught us in thy holy word that thou dost not willingly afflict or grieve the children of men, have compassion upon thy servants here assembled. Remember us, O Lord, in mercy ; endue our souls with patience under our affliction and with resignation to thy blessed will. Lift up thy countenance upon us and give us peace, and pardon and save us for thy name’s sake. Amen.”

Response—So mote it be.

This concludes the service. The procession then returns to the place whence it set out.

A SHORTER FORM OF
BURIAL SERVICE,

TO BE USED AT THE GRAVE DURING VERY INCLEMENT WEATHER.

After the officers and brethren have taken their proper positions at the grave, the service begins by the following or some suitable

PRAYER.

* “Our Father, who art in heaven, Hallowed be thy Name. Thy kingdom come. Thy will be done on earth, as it is in heaven. Give us this day our daily bread. And forgive us our trespasses, as we forgive those who trespass against us. And lead us not into temptation ; but deliver us from evil. For thine is the kingdom, and the power, and the glory, forever and ever. Amen.”

Response—So mote it be.

The following exhortation is then given :

“BRETHREN : We have assembled to-day as Masons to offer to the memory of our deceased

* During this short service the brethren are to uncover only while prayer is being offered.

brother this last tribute of our affection. Unto the grave we now consign his body—earth to earth ; ashes to ashes ; dust to dust—there to remain till the trump shall sound on the Resurrection morn. We can trustfully leave him in the hands of Him who doeth all things well, who is ‘glorious in holiness, fearful in praises, doing wonders.’”

The Master, then presenting the apron, continues :

“The lamb-skin apron is an emblem of innocence and the badge of a Mason.”

The Master then deposits it in the grave.

“This emblem I now deposit in the grave of our deceased brother. We are here reminded of the universal dominion of Death.”

The Master, holding the evergreen, continues :

“This evergreen is an emblem of our faith in the immortality of the soul. By it we are reminded that we have an immortal part within us which shall never, never die.”

The brethren then move in procession around the place of interment and drop the sprig of evergreen into the grave.

The grand honors are then given.

The Master then continues the service in the following words :

“To those of the immediate relatives and friends who are most heart-stricken at the loss they have sustained, we have but little of this world's consolation to offer. We can only sincerely, deeply and most affectionately sympathize with them in their afflictive bereavement, and remind them that He who 'tempers the wind to the shorn lamb' looks down with infinite compassion upon the bereaved in the hour of their desolation, and will fold the arms of his love and protection around those who put their trust in Him."

Then shall follow one of the prayers at the end of the full service, which concludes the ceremonies at the grave.

FORMS OF MASONIC DOCUMENTS.

PETITION FOR A WARRANT, OR A DISPENSATION, FOR A NEW LODGE.

To the M. W. Grand Master of Masons of the State of New Jersey :

The undersigned petitioners, being Free and Accepted Master Masons, having the prosperity of the Fraternity at heart, and willing to exert their best efforts to promote and diffuse the genuine principles of Freemasonry, respectfully represent, that they are desirous of forming a new Lodge in the — of —, to be named —. They therefore pray for a Warrant (or letters of dispensation), to empower them to assemble as a regular Lodge, and discharge the duties of Freemasonry in a regular and constitutional manner, according to the original forms of the Fraternity, and the regulations of the Grand Lodge. They have nominated and do recommend Brother — to be the first Master, Brother — to be the first Senior Warden, and Brother — to be the first Junior Warden of said Lodge. If the prayer of this petition shall be granted, they promise a strict conformity to the edicts of the Most Worshipful Grand Lodge, and the Constitution, Laws, Regulations and the Landmarks of Freemasonry.

Dated —.

RECOMMENDATION FOR A NEW LODGE.

To the M. W. Grand Master of Masons of the State of New Jersey :

This is to certify, That the following brethren, ———, whose petition is hereto annexed, being Master Masons in good standing, and being desirous of forming a new Lodge, to be held in the ——— of ———, in the county of ———, in this State, have exemplified the work of this jurisdiction to our entire satisfaction ; that each one of the petitioners is in possession of a regular dimit (or has given satisfactory evidence that the Lodge of which he was last a member is not in existence, and he is not in arrears for dues), and that the petitioners have secured a suitable and safe room in which to hold a Lodge.

—————, W. M.
(Seal.) ———, Secretary of ——— Lodge, No. —.

APPLICATION FOR DISPENSATION TO AVOID DELAY.

HALL OF ——— LODGE, NO. —, }
FREE AND ACCEPTED MASONS. }
—————, 18—.

To the M. W. ——— Grand Master of Masons of the State of New Jersey :

M. W. SIR : The undersigned having duly presented his petition for the three degrees of Masonry in ——— Lodge, No. —, and imperative circumstances (state the nature thereof), making it necessary that he should proceed without delay, respectfully asks that a dispensation be granted, empowering said Lodge to confer said degrees as soon as may be practicable.

Signed, A—— B——.

I, the Master of —— Lodge, No. —, certify that the application of A B presents a case of emergency, and recommend that the dispensation asked for be granted, and that he may receive the degrees accordingly, if found worthy.

Signed, —— ———, Master.

(Seal.) —— ———, Secretary.

APPLICATION FOR DEGREES

BY A PERSON WHO HAS BEEN ELECTED BY ANOTHER LODGE,
BUT HAS RECEIVED NO DEGREES THEREIN.

*To the W. Master, Wardens and Brethren of —— Lodge,
No. —, Free and Accepted Masons:*

The undersigned respectfully shows that on or about the —— day of ——, 18—, he was duly elected a candidate for the three degrees of Masonry by —— Lodge, No. —, located at ——, where he then resided ; that, for the sake of greater convenience (or other good cause), your petitioner prays that he may receive the three degrees in your Lodge.

The consent of —— Lodge is hereto annexed.

Dated, ——, 18—.

Signed, —— ———.

APPLICATION FOR DEGREES

BY A PERSON WHO HAS BEEN ELECTED BY ANOTHER LODGE, AND HAS RECEIVED ONE OR MORE DEGREES THEREIN.

*To the W. Master, Wardens and Brethren of — Lodge,
No. —, Free and Accepted Masons :*

The undersigned respectfully shows that on or about the — day of —, 18—, he was duly elected a candidate for the three degrees of Masonry by — Lodge, No. —, located at —, where he then resided, and thereafter duly received the Entered Apprentice degree (or Entered Apprentice and Fellow Craft degrees) of Masonry in said Lodge ; that, for the sake of greater convenience (or other good cause), your petitioner prays that he may receive the remaining degree (or degrees) in your Lodge.

The consent of — Lodge is hereto annexed.

Dated, —, 18—.

Signed, _____.

PROXY TO BE USED AT GRAND LODGE.*

At a stated communication of — Lodge, No. —, held at —, on the — day of —, A. L. 58—, A. D. 18—.

Brother — was duly elected proxy to represent this Lodge (in the absence of its Master and Wardens) in the Grand Lodge at its next annual communication.

(Seal.) _____, W. M.
_____, Secretary.

* Any Master Mason in good standing in the Lodge, not holding office in the Grand Lodge, may be elected a proxy, at the annual election. See Constitution, Art. IV.

PETITION FOR THE THREE DEGREES OF MASONRY.

(For this form see page 9.)

APPLICATION FOR AFFILIATION.

*To the W. Master, Wardens and Brethren of — Lodge
No — :*

The undersigned, a Master Mason in good standing, formerly of — Lodge, No. —, located at —, State of —, hereby presents his dimit from said Lodge, and respectfully asks to be admitted to membership in — Lodge.

He was born in —. He is — years of age.
His occupation is —. His residence is —.
Signed, — —.

Recommended by — —,
— —.

Dated, —, 18—.

LODGE SUMMONS.

HALL OF — LODGE, No. —,
FREE AND ACCEPTED MASONS,
—, —, 18—.

BROTHER : —

You are hereby summoned to attend a — communication of — Lodge, No. —, F. & A. M., on — evening, —, at — o'clock precisely.

Business : — —.

By order of the — —, W. M.
(Seal.) — —, Secretary.

NOTICE OF APPOINTMENT OF COMMITTEE.

HALL OF — LODGE, No. —.

FREE AND ACCEPTED MASONS,

—, 18—.

BROTHER — — :

Take notice, that at a stated communication of this Lodge, held this date, you were appointed on a committee to examine into and report upon —. The committee appointed consists of Bros. —.

Report to be called for at (next) stated communication.

Fraternally yours,

—, Secretary.

NOTICE OF ARREARS FOR DUES.

HALL OF — LODGE, No. —,

FREE AND ACCEPTED MASONS,

—, —, 18—.

— —,

BROTHER : I am directed to notify you to pay your arrears of dues to this Lodge, amounting to $—, and in case you fail to pay the same within three months from the date of this notice, you will be liable to suspension from membership, according to the 17th General Regulation of the Grand Lodge.

Fraternally yours,

(Seal.)

—, Secretary.

APPLICATION FOR A DIMIT.

*To the W. Master, Wardens and Brethren of — Lodge,
No. —, Free and Accepted Masons :*

The undersigned, now a member of this Lodge, and having paid all known dues, requests that he may be dimitted from the Lodge.

Signed, _____.

Dated, —, 188—.

DIMIT.

FREE AND ACCEPTED MASONS.

To all whom it may concern, GREETING :

— Lodge, No. —, acknowledging the jurisdiction of the M. W. Grand Lodge of New Jersey.

This is to certify that Brother —, whose name appears in the margin of this Dimit, is a Master Mason, and was a member of this Lodge in good standing, and clear of the books, and as such we do cordially commend him to the fraternal regard of all true Free and Accepted Masons, wherever dispersed around the globe.

In testimony whereof, we have caused this Dimit to be signed by the Worshipful Master, and the seal of the Lodge to be attached, this — day of —, A. D. 18—, A. L. 58—.

(Seal.)

_____, W. M.

_____, Secretary.

KEEPING THE MINUTES OF A LODGE.

At a stated (or emergent) communication of — Lodge, No. —, Free and Accepted Masons, held at —, on —, A. L. 58—, A. D. 18—, the following officers were present:

A— B—, W. M.

(Insert the names of all the officers in their regular order.)

Members: — —

Visiting Brethren: — —

The Lodge was opened in due and ancient form, and declared at labor on the M. M. degree.

(Reading of minutes and ordinary business.)

Labor on the M. M. degree was suspended for the purpose of commencing labor on the E. A. degree. Mr. A. B. being in waiting, was duly prepared and initiated E. A. Mason.

Labor on the E. A. degree was closed for the purpose of commencing labor on the F. C. degree. Brother C. D. was admitted and examined as to his proficiency in the F. C. degree, which, being satisfactory, etc.

Labor on the F. C. degree was then closed for the purpose of resuming labor on the M. M. degree.

The Lodge was closed in due and ancient form, at — o'clock.

Receipts: Dues from — Initiation fee —

— —, Secretary.

BY-LAWS OF A LODGE.

[It is sometimes the case that a new Lodge is at a loss for a suitable form for its by-laws. The Committee on Revision have therefore thought it well to submit a short form, but one which, it is believed, covers the essential points. Following the by-laws is an appendix to the same, which covers matters often embraced in Lodge by-laws, but which are improper to be included therein, because they are not proper subjects of Lodge action.]

(Title page.)

BY-LAWS

of

BLANK LODGE,

No. 000,

Blanktown, N. J.

Revised —, 18—.

Examined and Approved —, 18—, by

M. W. ———, Grand Master.

Adopted —, 18—.

(Third page.)

ORDER OF BUSINESS.

After the Lodge is opened, the business may be taken up in the following order, subject to the will of the W. M.:

1. Reading the minutes of previous communication.
2. Report of Committees of Investigation on applications for initiation or admission.
3. Balloting for candidates.
4. Initiation of candidates.
5. Applications for initiation or admission.
6. Unfinished business.
7. Report of Standing Committee.
8. Report of Special Committees, by seniority.
9. Reading communications.
10. New business.
11. Reading minutes.

(Fifth page.)

BY-LAWS.

ARTICLE I.

COMMUNICATIONS.

SEC. 1. The stated communications of this Lodge shall be held on —. Should a stated meeting fall on the 24th or the 25th of December, or if Christmas Day fall on a Sunday and be observed on the 26th, then the stated communication immediately preceding the 24th inst. shall be the last stated communication preceding the feast of St.

John the Evangelist (27th of December). Should any stated communications, besides those above provided for, fall on legal holidays, the Worshipful Master may, at his discretion, call the Lodge off.

SEC. 2. The Worshipful Master may, at a stated communication, order a recess, for a time not to exceed [six] weeks, during the summer months.

SEC. 3. The stated communications of the Lodge shall be opened at — o'clock, P. M.

ARTICLE II.

OFFICERS.

(See Appendix, Sec. 2.)

SEC. 1. At the annual election of officers there shall be elected a Board of three Trustees, one of whom shall be elected for three years, one for two years, and one for one year, and each succeeding year one Trustee shall be elected for three years. It shall be their duty to supervise the finances of the Lodge, to invest all funds not required by the Treasurer for current expenses when drawn on him by order of the Lodge; to hold in trust all property of the Lodge, and make such disposition of the same, as, in the absence of instruction from the Lodge, they may judge to be to its interest, and render at the annual communication, or oftener if desired, a report of their transactions. No Trustee shall be eligible to the office of Treasurer, during his term of office.

SEC. 2. In case of a vacancy in the Board of Trustees, the same may be filled for the unexpired term, by an election by ballot at a stated communication, the Lodge having been summoned for that purpose, at least one week previously.

SEC. 3. On the night of the installation of the Worshipful Master, he shall appoint three members of the Lodge as a Standing Committee. It shall be their duty to examine the books and accounts of the Treasurer, Secretary and Trustees, and report thereon in writing; audit all bills referred to them, and carry into execution all requirements of the Lodge not otherwise provided for.

SEC. 4. It shall be the duty of the Treasurer to render a yearly report on the night of the annual election, giving a full account of the receipts and disbursements, and the state of the funds, and immediately upon the expiration of his term of office he shall transmit to his successor all properties of the Lodge in his possession.

SEC. 5. It shall be the duty of the Secretary to notify candidates of their election or rejection; to render bills for dues quarterly; to collect and carefully record the receipt of all fees and dues, and pay the same without delay to the Treasurer, and perform such other duties pertaining to his office as the Worshipful Master may direct, and submit on the night of the annual election a report giving a summary of the proceedings of the Lodge for the year, and immediately upon the expiration of his term of office, he shall transmit to his successor all properties of the Lodge in his possession, and for the faithful discharge of his duties shall receive — dollars per annum, to be paid [quarterly].

ARTICLE III.

MEMBERSHIP.

SEC. 1. In balloting for initiation or membership, should the petition of the applicant be declared rejected, he shall not be again proposed to this Lodge within [six] months from the time of rejection.

(See Appendix, Sec. 4.)

SEC. 2. Any member in good standing, except an officer duly installed, may, with the consent of the Lodge, terminate his membership therein, on payment of all just demands of the Lodge.

SEC. 3. Every member on changing his residence shall at once notify the Secretary thereof, that he may record the same.

SEC. 4. It shall be the duty of every member knowing of the sickness or distress of a brother of this Lodge to report the same to the Worshipful Master or Wardens.

SEC. 5. The Worshipful Master and Wardens shall be a Committee of Charity for the relief of brethren in distress.

ARTICLE IV.

FEEES AND DUES.

SEC. 1. The fee for conferring the three degrees of Masonry shall be — dollars, — of which must accompany the petition and the remainder be paid previous to initiation.

(See Appendix, Sec. 5.)

SEC. 2. The annual dues shall be — dollars payable [quarterly or otherwise].

(See Appendix, Sec. 6.)

ARTICLE V.

AMENDMENTS.

SEC. 1. These by-laws shall not be amended or repealed, either wholly or in part, unless the proposition to amend or repeal (which shall be in writing) shall lie over one month. Then, if two-thirds of the members present vote in favor of such proposition, the same shall thenceforth take effect.

SEC. 2.* All former by-laws of this Lodge are hereby repealed, from and after the date of the approval of these by-laws by the M. W. Grand Master.

APPENDIX TO THE BY-LAWS.

SEC. 1. Requirements to be observed by applicants for initiation and affiliation.

FOR INITIATION.

The petitioner must be a firm believer in the existence of a Supreme Being; he must be of good morals, and at least twenty-one years of age; he must be of sound mind and able to do the work of a Mason; if he is an actual bona-fide resident of the place where he applies, he is eligible; the petition must be signed by the applicant and also by at least two members of the Lodge to which the petition is addressed; if the petitioner had previously been rejected in a Masonic Lodge, such fact must be set forth in detail in the petition; at least thirty dollars is requisite, not less than ten of which must accompany the petition; the petition must be presented at a regular communication of the Lodge; the ballot upon the petition (which must be clear), cannot be taken until one month (four weeks) after its presentation to the Lodge.

FOR AFFILIATION.

The applicant may petition any Lodge in this jurisdiction he may select; he must present a dimit from the Lodge to which he last belonged; notwithstanding the petitioner be in possession of a dimit, he must be vouched for, or be able to prove himself a M. M. before he can be elected; no affiliation fee is required; the requirements as to the presenting of the application, and the ballot upon the same, are similar to those for initiation.

* In the case of a new Lodge this section does not apply.

SEC. 2. The elective officers must be chosen by ballot, at the stated communication on or immediately preceding the feast of St. John the Evangelist. They must be voted for separately, and a majority of the votes given are necessary to a choice.

SEC. 3. The elective officers of the Lodge are Worshipful Master, Senior Warden, Junior Warden, Treasurer, and Secretary.

* The appointed officers are a Senior Deacon, Junior Deacon, two Stewards, two Masters of Ceremonies, Chaplain, Marshal, Organist, and Tyler.

SEC. 4. If a candidate is rejected, and the result announced, the ballot cannot be reconsidered. In case there be but one black ball the Master may order a new ballot to be immediately taken.

SEC. 5. On the rejection of a candidate for initiation, he shall be at once notified of the fact by the Secretary of the Lodge, and the proposition fee returned.

SEC. 6. Any member who shall be in arrears for fees or dues twelve months, and shall refuse or neglect to pay the same within three months after demand thereof shall have been made by the Secretary of the Lodge, may be suspended.

* It is left to the option of the Lodge if it will have Stewards in addition to Masters of Ceremonies, and so also as to a Chaplain, a Marshal, and an Organist.

MS
HS 455
M5
1887

